

JOHNSON VOTE NEAR LANDSLIDE

Farmer-Labor Candidate Elected to United States Senate in Minnesota by Big Plurality

WILL AMOUNT TO 70,000

Leading Governor J. A. O. Preus by 55,000 Votes With 2,572 of 3,521 Precincts Counted

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Minn., July 17—Conferees to plan a third national political party were held here by the farmer-labor leaders who engineered the "farmer revolt" in Minnesota and elected Magnus Johnson to the United States senate.

St. Paul, Minn., July 17—Plurality of Magnus Johnson "dirt farmer" elected United States senator in yesterday's balloting, grew into a landslide at noon today.

The farmer-labor victor's margin passed the 55,000 mark and the final plurality of more than 70,000 over Governor J. A. O. Preus, was predicted.

With 2,572 precincts out of 3,521 counted, the vote stood: Johnson, 246,202; Preus, 191,069.

Johnson will fill out the unexpired term of the late Knute Nelson, who died April 28, and will be a candidate for reelection in 1924.

He returned today to the section of land he owns in Meeker county to help with the haying. With typical Swedish accent, Johnson said he "liked to help with the schores" around the farm.

Governor J. A. Preus, who decided against resigning to have himself appointed to the vacancy, tasted his first political defeat. Just forty, and at the peak of a promising political career, he was caught in the maelstrom of farmer unrest in the state. Going down to defeat he was kicked by some of his erstwhile staunch supporters.

"If the Republican party in Minnesota is not in a chastened frame of mind this morning then it is past redemption," said the Pioneer Press, editorially. The Pioneer Press and Dispatch supported Governor Preus during the campaign.

"Governor Preus who began a political career under exceptionally favorable auspices finds himself the victim of an attempt to play both ends against the middle," the editorial continued.

"It can't be done in politics or anywhere else."

"Good God; Good devil," is a mighty poor platform for anybody. Instead of representing something he represented very little beside a personal ambition to succeed Senator Nelson."

It was the second political duel within a year between Governor Preus and Senator Johnson. Last November they fought it out for the governorship. Governor Preus won by a narrow margin.

State Senator James A. Carley was the Democratic nominee. He received only negligible vote yesterday.

Johnson's victory was not a surprise. It was presaged by the election last November by Dr. Henri Shipstead, farmer-labor, over Frank B. Kellogg, one of the Republican "old guard" in the senate.

SUFFERS FROM EXHAUSTION

Mrs. Warren G. Harding Not Seriously Ill, Physician Says

Fairbanks, Alaska, July 17—Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the president, is suffering from exhaustion, but she is not seriously ill, Brigadier General Sawyer declared today. The president's personal physician said the unusual exertions of Alaskan travel, with long days and no nights had tired her. She remained in bed here until shortly before the presidential train left at five p. m.

Three heat prostrations were marked up here as President Harding addressed a crowd at the ball park while the temperature was 94 degrees. The president changed his plans several times during the day, and after abandoning the trails trip, decided to see a "clean up" at a placer mine.

RETIRED MERCHANT DROWNS IN A LAKE

Otis Hudelson, Prominent Knightstown Man, Found Dead in Lake Near This City This Morning

WAS IN CLOTHING BUSINESS

The body of Otis L. Hudelson, prominent and well known resident of Knightstown, was found floating in Knightstown Lake, just west of Knightstown this morning.

Mr. Hudelson had been in business until a few days ago and was associated as a partner with Ed Williams in the George W. Williams clothing store in Knightstown. The partnership was dissolved a few days ago, with Mr. Williams retaining the interests.

The Henry county coroner was investigating the death today, and had not returned a verdict. The deceased left home this morning at five o'clock and his body was found two hours later floating on the water. If the motive was suicide, no reasons could be assigned for his actions.

The deceased was 45 years old, and had lived in Knightstown all of his life. He is survived by the widow and a daughter, Rosemary. The funeral arrangements were indefinite today.

SALESMAN SPENDS THE NIGHT IN JAIL

W. A. Doubt, Cincinnati, Refunds $25 Which Shelby Bush Overpaid Him and is Released

CONTROVERSY OVER A BILL

W. A. Doubt, a traveling salesman of Cincinnati, spent the night in jail upon complaint of Shelby Bush, a butcher at the Week's Meat Market, following a controversy over the payment of a bill, in which it is said that the butcher overpaid $25, and the salesman refused to refund it.

During the argument, Doubt was struck by the butcher, it is said, and then the salesman made his getaway, leaving his hat and coat behind, as well as his automobile, that was parked along Third street. The police guarded his machine for several hours, but he failed to appear, and after six o'clock sent some boys for it. Patrolman Lakin and Sheriff Hunt trailed the boys to a point below New Salem, where Doubt had gone in another machine, and he was arrested and placed in jail.

It was stated this morning that the salesman agreed to refund the $25, and no charge was filed against him, and his release was effected from jail.

OPPOSED TO PRICE FIXING

Southwestern Grain Producers Association Thus Goes on Record

Wichita, Ka., July 17—Diversified farming and cooperative marketing were urged as the means for solving the wheat price problem by the organization meeting of the Southwestern Grain Producers association here.

The producers must work out their own salvation, the conference decided. Government action to establish the price of wheat was not favored.

Collapse of Wheat Prices Blamed for "Farmer Revolt"

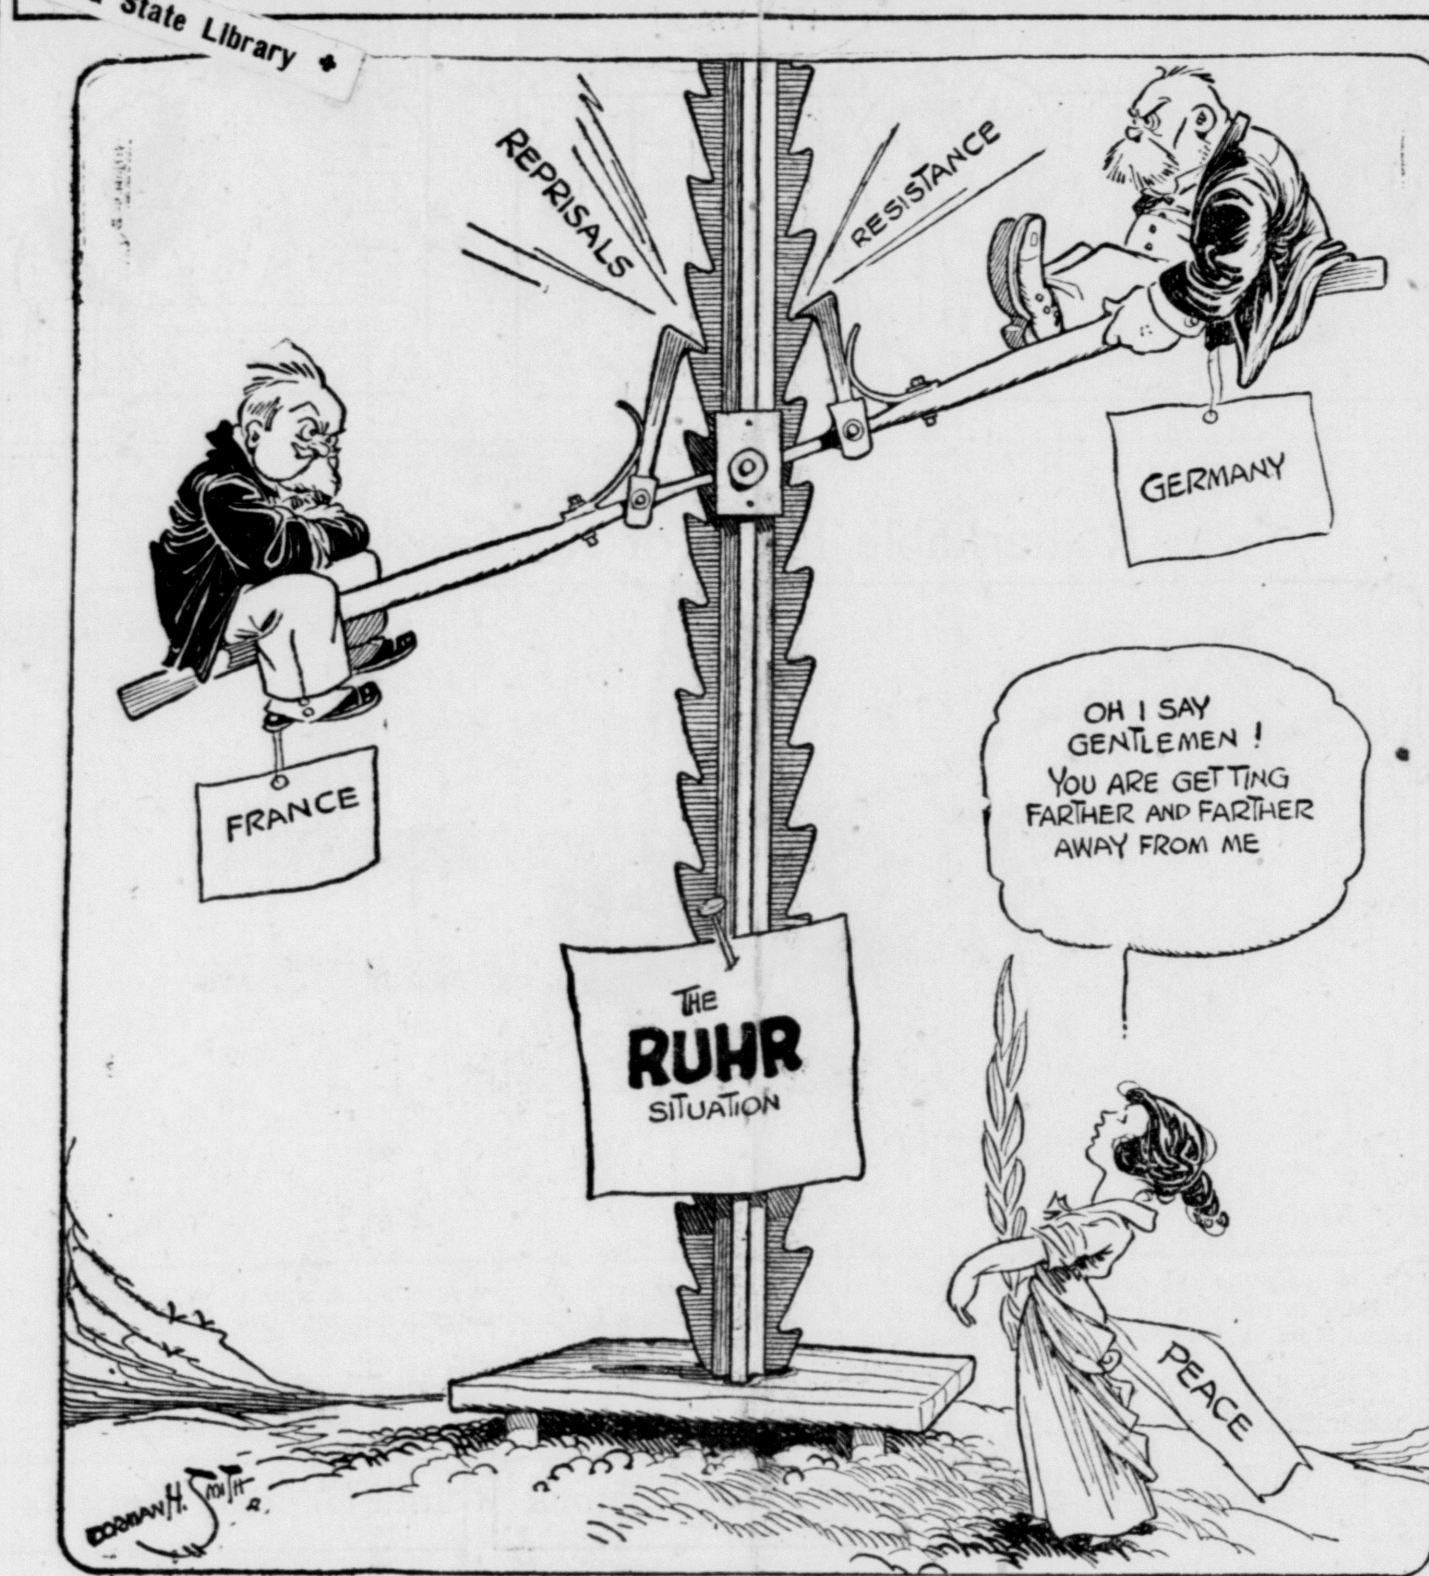

St. Paul, Minn., July 17—Collapse of wheat prices on the Chicago Board of Trade, coming at the psychological moment was greatly responsible for the "farmer revolt" that elected Magnus Johnson, United States senator.

The campaign between Johnson and Governor J. A. O. Preus was about even when news came last week that wheat had dropped below $1 on the Chicago market.

Quick to grasp his advantage, Johnson hammered his "farmer relief" platform at the senator-dom.

"Well, I beat Yake," he commented today. "I'm United States senator by yimminy. What you t'ink of that?"

EVIDENCE GOES BEFORE TAX BOARD

Hearing on Remonstrance Against Jesse Havens County Unit Road Taken Under Advisement

TOWNSHIPS OVER LIMIT

Argued That it Would be Illegal to Burden Them Further With Road Indebtedness

Evidence in the hearing conducted Monday on the remonstrance against the bond issue for the Jess. Havens road, in the southern part of Rushville township, will be presented to the state board of tax commissioners by Will A. Hough, member of the board who conducted the hearing.

The remonstrators alleged that the whole county should not be compelled to pay for the road, as provided under the county unit law, because Rushville townships people would be the only ones in the county to profit from it.

It was furthermore set out that eight of the twelve townships in the county have already exceeded the bonded indebtedness limit of two percent for roads and that the construction of the road would work a hardship on them.

The road has been pending for more than four years. When the petition was filed, the county commissioners, who are viewers for county unit road petitions, held that the road should be built, two voting for it and one against it, and the late Seth Moore filed a claim for $1,500 to pay for erecting fences along the road where it would pass through his farm.

The commissioners appointed reviewers and they held that Mr. Moore was entitled to $245 damages. The (Continued on Page Three)

Inheritance Tax is Smallest on Record Here

Two Heirs of Late James Hall of Center Township Pay Nine Cents Each, Being Taxed One Percent on $9.30.

The smallest inheritance tax on record was collected at the Rush county treasurer's office in the court house today. It amounted to exactly eighteen cents and was paid by two heirs of the estate of the late James Hall of Center township.

The county netted about twelve cents in the transaction as six cents had to be spent in postage in notifying the administrator of the estate that the tax was due, in sending the receipt for the tax by mail and for one other notice that had to be sent in regard to the matter.

The estate of the late Mr. Hall amounted to $6,527.91 and was inherited by the widow and two children. The law allows the widow an exemption on any sum up to $15,000 and children under eighteen years of age are not required to pay tax on any sum up to $5,000. If over eighteen years of age, children are required to pay tax on all money over $2,000 that is inherited.

It was this clause that was invoked in collecting eighteen cents. Each of the children is over eighteen years of age and each came into possession of $2,009.30 in the division of the estate, meaning that the tax of one percent was levied on $9.30 in each case.

In addition to the expense of mailing notices and receipts, Earl F. Priest, inheritance tax appraiser, was paid a fee of $8.50 for his services. This expense is met by the estate, however. Oliver Rich of Straughns is the administrator.

TURKS WINS THEIR BATTLE

Protested Oil Concessions Will Not be Mentioned in Treaty

Lausanne, France, July 17—The Turks supported by the American delegates won their big oil fight from the British at the Near East peace conference early today.

It was agreed that the protested oil concessions would not be mentioned in the peace treaty being drawn up, which is nearly ready for signatures.

The Americans were not present. Ismet Pasha spoke of the co-operation of the Turks and United States in the matter.

SAYS HUSBAND IS 'SET IN HIS WAYS'

Ada White of Charlottesville Files Suit Against Alvin A. White For a Divorce

ASKS A RESTRAINING ORDER

Alleges Threat Was Made to Kill Her and Son-in-law—Claims Against Estates Docketed

A divorce suit and several claims against estates were among the new suits filed in the circuit court today. In the divorce suit the plaintiff is Ada White and the defendant Alvin A. White, residents of Charlottesville.

The plaintiff alleges that they were married January 18 and separated July 5 of this year, and she charges him with cruel treatment, in that he was "set in his ways," would "pout" and sulk, slam the furniture and curse. He also is charged with accusing her falsely of being intimate with her son-in-law, and with borrowing a gun with which to kill the son-in-law if he came near their home. He also threatened to kill the plaintiff, the complaint says.

Mrs. White demands a restraining order to prevent her husband from molesting her, or from coming to her house, which she says she owns. She also asks that the court restore her former name of Ada Anderson.

In the list of claims filed against estates, the following have been placed on the docket and will be set for a hearing in September:

Michael F. Foust against Charles W. Foust, administrator of the estate of Mary J. Foust, demand for $59.94.

J. B. Colt Company against Mary Shoppelle, administrator of the estate of Rex Shoppelle, demand for $289.55.

Alvin O. Moore against Henry W. Beckner, administrator of the estate of George Beckner, two complaints, one for $84.40 and the other for $65.60.

Charles Nordloh against Ethel B. Posey, administrator of the estate of Jessie Posey, demand for $10.50.

Charles A. Cartwright against Lafa Hall, administrator of the estate of George W. Legg, demand for $35.00.

A. W. Helms against Lafa Hall, administrator of the estate of George W. Legg, demand for $547.25.

INDIANA GASOLINE TAX YIELDS $300,000

Approximately 60 Million Gallons of "Gas" Were Used During the Month of June

TEST SUIT REGARDED LIKELY

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—Receipts on the state gasoline tax for the month of June totaled $300,000, Robert Bracken, state auditor, announced today.

About 150 oil distributing companies made payment to the state. Charles C. Benjamin, chief of the collecting department, said the figure was probably under the normal amount of gasoline consumed during June as many persons filled their tanks with gasoline before the law went into effect in order to prevent payment of fees.

Approximately sixty million gallons of gasoline were used during the month, the report shows. After the cost of maintaining the collection department has been deducted, the money will be turned over to the state highway commission for development of the state roads.

Concerted action on the part of automobile manufacturers and oil distributing firms, against the two cent gasoline tax, was seen when the Studebaker Corporation of South Bend, made formal protest of payment.

Remittance of the first installment due under the gasoline tax law, was made, but the company said the payment was made involuntarily under protest and by compulsion of law, in order to prevent the execution of penalties mentioned. The tax was denounced as a violation of the state constitution and of the constitution of the United States.

The Sinclair Oil and Refining Company made a similar objection last week.

COUNTY BOYS CAMP UNDER WAY TODAY

Thirty-Four Boys go For Outing West of Morrisstown—Two Periods of Seven Days Each

CAMP PREPARED FOR THEM

The Rush county boys camp got under way this morning when thirty-four boys who qualified to attend were taken to the camp in a school hack. The camp will be in session for fourteen days, according to present plans, and will be in charge of Albert F. Cotton, director of physical education in the Rushville schools, and D. R. Merrell, Boy Scout scoutmaster from this city.

Forty boys had signed up for the camp Monday, but six of them failed to put in an appearance today and were expected to join the camp later. Five of the boys are from the vicinity of Mailla and the remainder are from Rushville and vicinity.

While some of the boys may stay in camp only one week, others will go to camp for the second period so that the number attending will not be materially reduced.

Everything was in readiness for the reception of the boys this morning, with the exception that eleven more cots were needed, and the committee on equipment expected to get them this afternoon.

FESTIVAL WELL ATTENDED

The lawn festival given at the city park Monday night under the auspices of the Young Men's Circle of the Main Street Christian Sunday school was well patronized, total receipts amounting to $291.96. The class announced today that it was indebted to many women who assisted by baking cakes and making candy which was donated for the festival. The Circle band provided music during the evening.

EVERY COUNTY TO BE REPRESENTED

Conference of Men and Women Chairmen Unexpected Feature of "Welcome for Wall" Meeting

THURSDAY IN INDIANAPOLIS

Call Issued Because of so Many County Leaders Announcing They Would Attend "Welcome"

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17—A call was issued today for the Republican State Committee to meet here Thursday for a conference with the men and women county chairmen as an added and unexpected feature of the program for the "Welcome for Wall", the party lovefeast given for Clyde A. Wall, the new chairman of the state committee. The conference will be held at 2:30 p. m., Thursday with indications now that every county will be presented.

The call for the committee meeting, it was understood, was issued because of the large number of the county leaders having indicated their intention to attend the lovefeast. As an addition to the program for the "Welcome for Wall", the conference is to take advantage of having so many county leaders assembled at one time.

With all party leaders sponsoring the lovefeast, advance indications are that the event will be the outstanding political gathering for this year, and with the conference of leaders that was called for today it may be regarded that the republican presidential campaign of next year is getting under way.

The program for the "welcome" calls for Mr. Wall and his friends to extend greetings to all visitors from 9:30 a. m., the reception being held on the Severin hotel roof garden. A speaking program includes Postmaster General New, Senator Watson, Governor McCray, James P. Goodrich, Winfield T. Durbin, Lawrence A. Lyons, Mr. Wall, Joseph B. Keating, Wil H. Hays, Miss Dorothy Cunningham, associate member of the Republican National Committee, Miss Etelka Roekenbach, and Mrs. Edna Herr Backlin, vice-chairmen of the state committee.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO LOCATE CABIN

Rotarians and Kiwanians to Dismantle Birthplace of Gen. Hackleman For Removal Here

ROTARY CLUB MEETS TODAY

It was decided at the regular meeting of the Rotary club today at noon at the Social club to hold next week's meeting at the Rush county boys camp west of Morrisstown next Tuesday evening, when families of Rotarians will be guests. The Rotarians expect to eat a picnic supper at the camp and take along some extra refreshments for the boys in camp. Entertainment will also be provided.

A committee was also announced to dismantle the General P. A. Hackleman cabin in Franklin county next Monday and bring it to Rushville for erection in the new addition to the park that is being purchased by the city. The committee is composed of the following:

Rotarians—Walter Easley, Frank Abercrombie, Will Feudner, Jack Knecht, Harry Wyatt, Louis Mauzy, Carl Beher, Donald Ball, Gunn Haydon and George Griesser; Kiwanians—Frank Catt, Will Trennepohl, Curt Hester, Walter Thomas, Omer Trusler, Earl Osborne, Nick Tompkins, Birney Farthing, Norm Norris and John Knecht.

Guests at the Rotary meeting today included Henry Newkirk of Muncie, Walter Havens of Ely, Nevada, and Howard Mullin of Huntington, Ind., all of whom spoke briefly.

HELPS SALE OF GOOD SECURITIES

Indiana Law On Sale Of Stock Re- stores Confidence To People Who Have Money To Invest

MANY PEOPLE LOST HEAVY

Before law Was Enacted. All Sorts Of Worthless Schemes Were Used By Stock Grafters

By MAURICE L. MENDENHALL
(Written for United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., July 17—Promotion for "promotion" sake and for the "promoter's sake" has lost its attractiveness in Indiana.

Prior to the enactment of the Indiana Securities law, the stock selling business in Indiana afforded the individual who chose to live by wits a happy hunting ground.

There is not a single community in this state but what witnessed the atrocities committed under those conditions. The Indiana securities law was designed for the purpose of minimizing the gigantic frauds and thought was given to the phraseology of the statute to accomplish this purpose.

Honest promotion and development could not be stopped without serious injury to the state, and a law which would prevent the further development of our resources, which would make impossible the perfection and use of the new ideas of our citizens when such ideas had been protected by patents would be against public policy and therefore a backward step.

On the other hand unless graft was removed from the promotion of a new enterprise, not only would hundreds of our citizens be robbed of the fruits of their labors, but confidence in securities as an investment would be destroyed, and with this destruction of confidence would follow a period in which legitimate business and legitimate development and expansion would suffer from the lack of necessary capital with which to carry on. It is obvious that the problem was intricate and required much thought.

It is agreed that the individual who by the resourcefulness of his mind is able to create an invention of great economic value or the individual who by his industry and forthright is able to contribute assets of great value to a corporation and is entitled to a remuneration for such contribution if such contribution has a real value and if the contributor is sincere and honest.

The Indiana securities law was drafted to take the joy out of promotion for promotion's sake, and at the same time to protect legitimate business.

SCIENCE SEEKS METHOD TO USE U. S. LIGNITE

Montreal, July 17—Science's quest for a method that will add lignite char to the available fuel supplies of the United States was described at a session of the Fuels Division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers here today by O. P. Hood, chief mechanical Engineers here today by O. P. Hood, chief mechanical engineer of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

"The Bureau of Mines is investigating the possibilities of a program," said Hood, "which has for its main features an inexpensive carbonizing device and the use of the lignite char direct, without briquetting. If a market for the char can be developed, and the small mine can produce char, there would be provided means for a natural evolution of an industry that in time might realize the larger vision of briquetting and realize the larger vision of briquetting and recovery of by-products.

"Lignite char can best be described in a few words as a fuel rather near in analysis to anthracite coal but softer, with a little more volatile matter, and thus kindling easier. Whether a market can be developed for such a fuel at prices around five dollars a ton at the mine, remains to be shown, but it is at least encouraging to know that Germany used last year 400,000 tons of similar material for domestic heating and cooking.

"This fuel burns well with natural draft where a thin fuel bed, about one and a half inches in thickness can be maintained. Base burners, cook stoves, and other heaters can be adapted to use the fuel satisfactorily. It makes a very clean fire is smokeless and the char is clean to handle. It is however, slow in getting under way as compared to a gas range."

The greatest difficulty with our lignite is the fact that in nearly every district where it should be the natural fuel it is put in competition with high-grade fuel, according to Hood, who continued:

"We are all spoiled by having been blessed with an abundance of the best so that we are impatient with the limitations of lower-grade fuels. If we had been obliged to go down 2,000 feet or more and win good coal from thin seams in scattered districts as they do in Europe, we would have long ago worked out a successful technique for utilizing our lignites. Canadian and North Dakota lignite must compete with anthracite and with Pittsburgh and Illinois bituminous coal; our Texas lignite must compete with gas, oil, and Oklahoma bituminous coal.

It is evident however that there must be a price at which the lower grade fuel will begin to be attractive. In round numbers the ratio is somewhere in the neighborhood of half the price of good coal. With the rising price of bituminous coal we are fast approaching the time when this ratio will be common."

Motorists to Help Keep Clean U. S. Beauty Spots

Washington, July 17—Imagine the Grand Canyon filled with sardine tins and empty banana peelings; the Garden of Gods "decorated" lavishly with old newspapers, ketchup bottles and the like. You can't imagine such a condition.

But it needs no imagination to picture the defacing of other American beauty spots by careless motor tourists who leave all sorts of refuse and litter behind them when they move on, officials of the National Motorists' Association say.

"To help the motorist see that he is to blame for this nuisance which affects him more than anyone else, and to show him a public-spirited way to preserve the natural beauties of the country as seen from an automobile, a movement has been started under the name of the Motorists' League for Countrywide Preservation," says a bulletin from the N. M. A.

Members in the new organization will be asked to take this pledge:

"I will make every effort to leave the roadside in such condition that the pleasure to be derived from it by others is not lessened through any careless act of mine."

President Harding is a charter member of the organization and of its "campaign committee".

Care in making and extinguishing campfires; elimination of useless destruction of shrubbery and trees, and a general policy of "clean up as you go" is the program of the organization.

Foulard Designs

Foulard, as always, is one of the best of summer silks. It is seen in gayer colors than foulard usually adopts, however. Pleated ruffles edge sleeves, skirts and necklines and cascade from waist to hem in graceful drapes.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stewart and son Frank and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Vansickle and Miss Gladys Bailey have returned to their home at Des Moines, Iowa, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander and other relatives of this city.

EVIDENCE GOES BEFORE TAX BOARD

case was appealed to the circuit court where it awaits trial. Ripley, Orange, Posey, Walker, Anderson, Jackson, Noble and Richland townships have all exceeded their bonded indebtedness limit for roads and will be unable to build any new ones for some time to come. The bonded indebtedness limit was lowered from four percent to two percent by the last legislature, which accounts for many of the townships being overbonded for roads.

While some of the townships are not to be blamed for the condition in which they find themselves, due to the change in the law, it is pointed out that it would not be legal to place a further road debt on them, although the amount in each township would be small, to build the Havens road.

Orange, Walker and Anderson township have twice their bonded indebtedness on roads and Noble is very near for percent. There are six road petitions pending in Orange, but it will be several years before a road can be built in that township.

AMUSEMENTS

Band Coming to the Princess

A special attraction has been booked this week end at the Princess theatre, in the appearance of Earl Frazier Newberry and his band, which will appear at all performances Friday and Saturday in a concert.

The band is composed of sixteen pieces, and is now enroute to the southland, where it is scheduled to play at many of the state fairs, where it has appeared for many years as a headliner.

The concert will be varied and many soloists in the organization. The band is said to be equal to any organization of twice the number of instruments, and will no doubt prove to be a good drawing card for the week end theatre goers in this city.

Priscilla Dean Here Today

With an immortal story, a star of dynamic personality and a cast of players whose names might be played up separately as stars, "Under Two Flags" comes to the Princess Theatre again today as a Universal Jewel offering of the highest standard.

Priscilla Dean stars as the pathetic Cigarette, James Kirkwood is opposite her, and John Davidson, Ethel Grey Terry, Stuart Holmes, W. H. Bainbridge, Fred Craven, Barton Law and Bobby Mack have other important parts.

Quida did not dream of the success to which her story would come. She died in poverty in France and very few knew that the passing of Louise de la Ramee, as she was in private life, was the eclipse of a brilliant career. As is the case with many a great genius, she died without the reward that was justly hers. If she had lived but a few years longer fame immeasurable would have come to her.

Choosing such a mighty vehicle for Priscilla Dean, Universal executives knew that a director of unquestioned superiority would have to guide the filming. Tod Browning, who shares credit with Miss Dean for the phenomenal run of "Outside the Law" and "The Virgin of Stamboul," was assigned to repeat those successes.

"Rainbow" At The Mystic

In early scenes of "Rainbow," the Alice Calhoun production, which will be shown at the Mystic Theatre again today, the young star wears knee dresses of a rather antiquated type and one of the queerest little hats ever shown in pictures. The original model was trimmed by the star herself, but as she is used to trimming hats, owing to the fact that she makes all her own, she did not succeed in getting one grotesque enough to suit her director. Therefore when she appeared upon the set Edward Jose exclaimed:

"Oh, no, Miss Calhoun, that will never do. It looks too nice. Here,

give me a pair of scissors and a needle and thread!"

The star handed him the necessary implements and the director took upon himself the position of a milliner. For over a half hour he labored trimming the hat in a way which satisfied him. When he had finished he had a creation which no society girl would care to wear.

"Rainbow" is a story of a young girl who is brought up by three foster-fathers who are engaged in working a mine for her. The young girl visits her uncle in the city and receives an education and polish. When she returns to the mine she has lost none of her charming simplicity but wins the heart of a youth who thought her too much of a child for his attention when she went away.

The Bucket Shops

What is said to be a national campaign is on to rid the country of "bucket shops" which have fleeced so many unsuspecting lambs in the investment field.

That is good. Such piratical buzzards ought to go out of business and into jail.

But why stop at bucket shops?

On the boards of trade and similar bodies under other names will be found just as big knaves as any bucket shop ever boasted.

Men with millions at their command corner markets and force prices up to dizzy heights, and when they reach the highest possible point these manipulators quickly unload and leave others who are less astute to hold the bag when the bubble bursts—as it always does. And all of this time millions of consumers are being gouged in order that the speculative gang may rake in additional profits.

Men devoid of principle wreck each other on boards of trade without qualms of conscience or the bat of an eye. They call it shrewd financiering, and because of their ability to crush and destroy they are honored

Individualism Vs. Paternalism

When the people of the United States as a whole exert their energy to develop any undertaking, its success is virtually assured. The same holds true in regard to the individual initiative, energy and ambition of our private citizens who are leaders today in the development of modern conveniences and labor saving machinery and ideas.

This is illustrated by figures recently published showing that nearly 3 of the telephones in the world are owned and operated by private companies and that the majority of these private companies are in the United States. Most of the telephones not located in the United States are in Europe and are operated by the governments.

In this country there are 13 telephones for every 100 persons which means that almost every family in the country has a telephone. In Europe there is 1 telephone per 100 persons which means that the European service is of 13 times less value to the telephone subscriber than it is in this country and costs him considerably more.

Private initiative and enterprise under a form of government that allows its individual citizens to benefit by their labors and ambition will always outstrip a government-operated service which reduces the individual to a cipher and eliminates incentive by curtailing the reward for labor and inventive genius.

Is It Fair to Jones?

Bill Jones spent $100,000 building up an industry which employs 100 men. On this property he pays a school, road, county, state and corporation tax, and as it is inside the city limits, a city tax covering police and fire protection and all other city activities. In addition to this he pays the government income tax on any profit he makes.

Sam Smith, his neighbor, who has children that go to the public school with Bill's, whose property has the same police and fire protection, whose automobile travels on the same paved road as Bill's, and who has all advantage of city, county and state improvements that Bill does, has $100,000 invested in tax-exempt bonds and escapes all taxation which Bill has to pay to maintain the improvements which Sam enjoys.

Will Bill spend another $100,000 to enlarge his industry?

We talk about tax reduction while countenancing a system which places a premium upon tax-dodging and penalizes taxpayers who maintain industry and government.

From The Daily Republican
Friday, July 17, 1908

Miss Edith Hiner's picture appeared in the Indianapolis Star this morning with a group of girls who left yesterday on the Star trip to the Lakes. It was a good looking bunch, too. Seems like the industrious girls won out on the European trip and the good looking girls won second money.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Offutt of East Sixth street entertained today in honor of the Rev. S. S. Offutt of Lawrenceburg. The guests were Charles Offutt and mother, Mrs. Mary Burdsoft and Mrs. Edna Dagher and children.

The dance given at the Modern Woodmen hall yesterday evening was one of the most enjoyable social events of the summer. The out-of-town guests were Miss Jessie Wells of Chicago; Miss Thornton of Iowa; Will Brann and Joan Early of Greenfield; Will Elliott and Wray DePrez of Shelbyville; Will Doyle of Connersville.

Spontaneous combustion was the cause of a $1500 fire last night when the oldest barn in Anderson township and one of the first frame structures in the county was totally destroyed. About eight o'clock the large barn of Freeman Elston, who lives one mile east of Milroy, was discovered in flames and before assistance could arrive, was reduced to ashes.

Harrie Jones started his trotter John Ward, in the Terre Haute races yesterday. The horse took the first heat in the record time of 2:05 1/2. In the second heat of the race the horse could do no better than fifth and was distanced in the third heat.

Mrs. Ralph Payne and children will leave Monday evening for Northern Michigan to spend the summer. Mr. Payne and mother, Mrs. Frances Payne, will follow in a few weeks for a short stay.

Mrs. Mary Demmer will return today from an extended visit at Seymour. Her daughter, Mrs. Loe Carter, will return with her for a visit.

Mrs. Ruby Petry, daughter, Miss Katherine, and son, Harry, were the guests of friends in Milroy Thursday.

The fiscal year ending June 30 was a busy one at the local post-office. Figures just compiled show that 4450 people are being served by the city carriers and 4752 by the rural carriers. During the year 51 international money orders were issued, and three were paid. The office issued 8159 domestic orders, and paid 3977. The office sent out 1494 pieces of registered mail, and received for delivery 1558. There were 250 pieces of registered mail handled in transit.

NEW DIRECTORS TO BE INTRODUCED

Indiana Unive sity Leaders In Athletics To Be Guests At "I" Men's Association Dinner

RUSHVILLE MAN A MEMBER

levenger, Ingram And Mann Will Outline Plans For New Athletic Administration At I. U.

Bloomington, Ind., July 17.—The Indiana university Men's Association, of which Russell Kirkpatrick, of Rushville, is a member, will fire
the first gun of the I. U. fall athletic season at a dinner Thursday evening, July 19, at the Highland country Club, Indianapolis. The inner will be for the purpose of in-roducing Indiana athletic followers to the state university's new trio of coaches, Zora Clevenger, director of athletics, Bill Ingram, head football coach, and Leslie Mann, newly elected assistant director of athletics.

In their talks before the I. U.
sport fans, Clevenger, Ingram and Mann will outline plans of the new athletic administration at Indiana, and will tell the ex-warriors of Jordan Field about the new stadium
now under way at Bloomington.
Clevenger is well known to Indiana men, not only as the one time best all-round athlete produced at Indiana university but also as the coach who since leaving his alma mater made the University of Tennessee the football champions of the south and later made a name for himself in football and basketball circles of the Middle west for teams trained out at the University of Missouri and at the Kansas State agricultural College. Ingram is the former Navy star quarterback and coach. Mann is Indiana's basketball coach of last season who developed his sophomore quintet into one of the most feared teams in the Big Ten and the only team to defeat Iowa.

The Indiana "I" men are claiming their new coaching trio inferior to none in the Big Ten and are dramatic a rousing reception for them at the coming Indianapolis dinner. Delegations of "I" men and other I. U. sport lovers from various parts of the state will be met at the Haypool hotel at 6 o'clock on the evening of the dinner by a reception committee of Indianapolis alumni and will be escorted in a body to the latter. More than 400 "I" men are now residing within the state and a large percentage of them will attend the Indiana rally. The invitation is general to all followers of cream and crimson sports. Willis

Some of Those Who Saw Firpo K. O. Willard

Just one section of the huge bowl at Jersey City, N. J., where 100,000 saw Luis Firpo knock out Jess Willard. It was the biggest crowd that ever witnessed a fight. This picture was taken at sunset. A few bare patches are to be seen, but when the party started every seat was taken and thousands stood in the aisles and around the rim of the bowl.

Reform in Racetrack Betting

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 17.—The cry is being set up by reformers for eradication of the "betting evil".
The "betting evil" is the gambling being done at racetracks throughout the country. In this age of civilization, no such condition should be tolerated, they say.
Maryland and Kentucky have recognized the betting evil and have government regulations. Betting is done openly and the state gets a substantial tax. In neither of these states is there any income tax levied on the salaries of workers. But there is in New York.
The politicians of New York and Illinois and some other states have sidestepped the issue. At tracks in and around New York there is in practice what is known as "oral betting". The state law prohibits any betting whatever, but it has been so long since a bookmaker was arrested for violating that law that nobody seems to recall it.
Recently, out in Chicago, police raided the Hawthorne track at the opening of the racing season there and "pinched" a dozen alleged gamblers.
Nobody in New York or Chicago believes that anyone is going to pay up to $5 entrance fee, merely to watch a few ponies run around the track.

ARLINGTON WINS ANOTHER

Herse Shoe Pitchers Defeat Morristown For Second Time

Arlington came out victors again
Monday night in a game of horseshoe at Arlington, when the team defeated the Morristown team, winning 9 out of 10 games. This is the second time that Arlington has defeated the Morristown pitchers.

Arlington obtained 678 points, getting 229 ringers and 23 double ringers. Morristown had 628 points with 218 ringers and 17 double ringers. H.
Dyer, Linville and Price were the outstanding players for the Arlington team, and Mays, Comstock, Zike and Zimmerman were the shining stars for Morristown.

The Score Board

Five hits, two passes, an error, and a wild pitch gave the Robins seven runs in the third inning and an 8 to 4 victory over the Pirates.
McClellan's error behind the wild pitching of Blankenship gave the Athletics a 4 to 2 win from the White Sox.

Seven runs were scored on a flock of hits off Glazner in the second inning and the Cards beat the Phils 13 to 7.

Tobin's homer and other long distance hits enabled the Browns to beat the Red Sox 4 to 1.

After losing the first game 6 to 0, the Yanks came back and won the second from the Indians 11 to 7.

Jack Bentley's fine pitching gave the Giants a victory over the Cubs 3 to 1 in the second game after they had dropped the first 7 to 4.

Zachary bettered Dauss in a pitching duel and the Senators beat the Tigers 4 to 2.

SPORT CHATTER

Cleveland—Joe Bush, one of the star pitchers of the New York Yanks will be out of the game indefinitely.
Bush broke the third finger on his left hand fielding a bunt in the second game yesterday against the Indians.

New York—William M. Johnston, winner of the British tennis championship at Wimbledon, returned today on the Olympic. Others in the party returning from Europe were

BOXERS DEMAND TOO MUCH MONEY

By HEZE CLARK

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—Boxers and their managers in all parts of the country are killing the goose that lays the golden egg by demanding such sums of money for boxing a few rounds that it is almost impossible for promoters to meet their demands.

When the promoters lose financially the boxers will soon learn that fewer promoters are willing to stage big boxing shows. When every boxer is unwilling to take a chance with the promoters on what the gate receipts may prove to be, boxing becomes purely a money grabbing game and all sportsmanship is lost.

When the element of sportsmanship is lost, even from professional athletics, the public will soon be drawn away from the attendance.

It is right for boxers to get what their work is worth, even though the price is thousands of dollars, but they must not disappoint the boxing fans.

Tommy Gibbons is probably the most popular boxer in the world today. He fought Jack Dempsey for the boxing championship and not for money.

Low Tendler, the Philadelphia lightweight who failed to get in the ring last week at Michigan City with Sailor Freedman, lost much of his popularity with the boxing fans.

It seems that Tendler's manager was worried because he did not sell all of the $150,000 purse in front of him before the match.

An excellent example of true sportsmanship among professional boxers was that shown by Bud Taylor just before the Memorial Day races.

When an Indianapolis promoter was singing the blues because the gate was not as heavy as he thought it would be, Taylor took a $1,000 cut in his guarantee rather than disappoint the fans.

ESSAY CONTEST TO CLOSE OCT. 12

Estimated By American Legion 250,000 Children Will Complete In Contest This Year

ELIMINATION METHOD USED

Subject For The Essay Is "Why America Should Prohibit Immigration For Five Years"

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—The second annual American Legion essay contest for school children throughout the country will close October 12, it is announced at Legion headquarters here today.

It was estimated by officers of the Legion that 250,000 children will complete this year. The subject for the essay is: "Why America should prohibit all immigration for a period of five years."

The children of the nation will compete by a method of elimination. Cooperating with educational officials in every state, the Legion has found it possible to have county and city school heads pass on the best composition from their schools and send them to the state committee.

Three competent judges will pass on the essays and award silver and bronze medals and certificates of merit to winners of first, second and third places in each state.

The best essay of each state will then be submitted to the national committee, composed of educators of national prominence. They will consider each essay for thought, style, originality of treatment, spelling and penmanship to determine rating of contestants.

When the committee designates the winners, special awards will be made first to receive $750, second $500, and third $250, all of which must be applied on scholarship expenses at any college or university designated by the winners.

Last year's contest, in which 50,000 entered, was won by Ah Sing Ching, a Hawaiian youth of Chinese extraction, who is now finishing preparatory school work. Virginia Chastain, Indianapolis, was second, and Joseph Giandonato, Bridgeport, Conn., who submitted his essay in blank verse, was third.

Essays are limited to 500 words, written on one side of the page, with name, address and age of each contestant affixed. A short pledge is signed by the writer that the essay is entirely his or her own work. Age limits are from 12 to 18 years.

GARY TO HAVE ARMORY

Gary, Ind., July 17.—Construction work on the armory here will be begun before Aug. 1, according to an announcement by Col. A. P. Melton, commander of the 113th engineers. All preliminaries have been arranged. Adjutant General Harry B. Smith told members of the committee. The armory will be located on a plot of 5 acres. Outdoor drills may be held in fair weather, members of the committee said.

UNMASKED MEN ROB BANK

Chance Of Catching Edwardsport, Ind., Bandits Seems Small

Vincennes, Ind., July 17.—The chance of catching the two unmasked men who held up the cashier of the Edwardsport bank late yesterday and made away with $2,500 in cash seemed small today.

Although Vincennes and Edwardsport police joined in the chase immediately after A. B. Rich, the cashier, gave the alarm, no trace of the Ford coupe in which the men fled was found.

The men held the cashier up at the point of a revolver when he turned to change a bill for them.

BANK OVERLOANED

Indianapolis, July 17.—Fred Whicker, bank examiner, has taken charge of the bank at Redkey following the voluntary closing of the institution's doors yesterday, it was announced at the office of the state banking commission today.

The bank is said to have overloaned in the agricultural community during the period of inflation.

Heads Pageant

Miss Margaret M. Krsak, San Francisco, will have charge of the Pageant of All Nations at the National Educational Association's convention being held simultaneously in San Francisco and Oakland, Cal.

TRIAL IS POSTPONED

Owing to a misunderstanding in the time for the trial of the alleged five men, who were caught Sunday night by Police Chief Blackburn, Mayor Thomas continued the case from last night until some other night this week. Two of the five men were said to have been shooting craps, and the other three were witnesses. All of them appeared last night in police court, but it is said that the prosecutor was not notified, and the case will be reset for some night this week.

JOHNSON VOTE IS NEAR LANDSLIDE

ators from Minnesota, progressives in the senate hold a balance of power. Both were elected on platform that grew out of the non-Partisan League program in the north-west.

Johnson will favor:

Repeal of the Esch-Cummins railroad law.

Revision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff.

Government grain purchase and storage to assure the farmer "a living wage."

Nationalization and development of water power resources.

The Norris Cinclair national farm marketing corporation.

Complete revision of the federal reserve bank system.

Abolition of supreme court decisions by a majority vote.

A soldier bonus to be paid by revenue from an excess profits tax—not a sales tax.

Restriction of the use of court injunctions in labor disputes.

More stringent regulation of the packing industry.

Complete equality for men and women, politically and industrially.

A new child labor law.

As soon as things stack up on the farm near Kimball, Johnson plans to "visit around" with his constituents and learn what else they want him to do. He will be an enthusiastic member of the farm bloc which is becoming well defined in the senate.

Republican leaders ascribed the defeat of Governor Prens to "the unhealing unrest and economic conditions which found its vent in a protest vote against the party in power."

This was the statement of Charles R. Adams, recently appointed chairman of the Republican state central committee and the governor's campaign manager.

Fred A. Pike, manager of the Johnson victory to "a complete political realignment in this state."

"The election of Magnus Johnson shows the extent to which the old parties have disintegrated," he said. The new senator is a picturesque character, typical of the Swedish immigrant farmers so numerous in the North Star state.

Born in Liljedahl, Sweden, he was educated in the grade schools there. On vacations he sailed on coastwise vessels. At 12 he became an apprentice in a bottle factory at Liljedahl.

Party Aids

Mrs. C. H. Sabin (top) has been named as the new York member of the new women's advisory committee of the national Republican organization. Mrs. Barclay E. Warburton, vice chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican state committee, has been appointed an associate member of the Republican National Committee.

DRIVES AUTO INTO CAR

Princeton, Ind., July 17.—Luther Bruner, 20, and his brother Paul 16, were suffering today from injuries received when the older boy drove his car into the side of an Evansville and Princeton interurban, north of this city. It is understood Bruner was racing with another car and did not see the approaching traction car.

Moonlight Cherry Pickers

Akron, Ind., July 17.—Akron is the home of the champion moonlight cherry picker of Indiana, according to Mrs. Harry Love of this city. She sold the fruit on two heavily laden trees to two purchasers, the deals being made late in the afternoon. When the buyers appeared in the morning, prepared to pick the fruit there was little left on either tree, a thief having stripped practically every branch during the night. It is estimated by Mrs. Love that each tree yielded not less than two bushels of fruit.

TO ADD AGRICULTURE

Pierceton, July 16.—Vocational agriculture will be added to the curriculum of the Pierceton school with the opening of the fall semester, Sept. 10. This subject is to be given special attention as the result of a decision reached by the township trustees, after having conducted an investigation into the courses taught in Indiana and other states.

5,000 GUARDSMEN IN CAMP

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—Approximately 5,000 members of the Indiana National Guard are now encamped at Camp Knox, Ky., Adjutant General Harry B. Smith announced today. This is the largest troop movement in Indiana since the war.

11-YEAR-OLD BOY DROWNS

Logansport, Ind., July 17.—While swimming in the high school pool, John Patchell, 11, son of Milton Patchell, was drowned. The boy was a member of the school's summer athletic classes. This was the first drowning in the pool since its construction eight years ago.

DEMANDS EXTRA SESSION

New York, July 17.—A demand that President Harding call immediately an extra session of congress to pass a measure for relief of the American farmers was voiced today by Senator Brookhart of Iowa, who has just returned to this country from a visit to Soviet-Russia.

WHEAT STILL GOING DOWN

Chicago, July 17.—Wheat prices continued their drop to new record lows on the Chicago Board of Trade today. July deliveries sold at 96½ cents a bushel, September at 95½, and December at 93½. The wheat pit was crowded with sellers and no buyers were in sight.

PROMINENT MASON DIES

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—Wright Marble, 53 years old, dropped dead today at the corner of Pennsylvania and Washington streets here today. Marble was prominent in Masonic circles throughout the state. It is thought that heart failure caused Marble's death.

150 BARREL OIL WELL

Portland, Ind., July 17.—An oil well, which it is believed, will produce 150 barrels a day, has been shot in the southeastern part of Jay county. Oil ran over the foot of the derrick before the well was shot, and the explosion sent the oil several hundred feet into the air.

The Test of Good Will

Most manufacturers appreciate the importance of good will on the part of the dealer, and count it one of their greatest assets. But many of them need to consider more thoroughly in what good will consists.

The final test of good will is the salability of the product — the consumer demand.

The dealer may be willing to concede the high standing and prestige of the manufacturer. He acknowledges freely that it is one of the foremost concerns in the business, that it is backed by men who have a solid reputation in their industry, and that its relations with the dealer are business-like and pleasant. He is disposed to estimate all these things at full value.

But all this good will cannot materially help the dealer sell your goods unless the public is disposed to buy them.

The kind of good will that counts most with the dealer is the good will of the public towards your goods.

If the consumer is demanding your product, and the dealer is able to supply it at a profit, he will have ample good will for the house that makes this possible.

There is just one way to build up this consumer good will, and that is by making the product right and telling the consumer about its merits through Advertising.

With the consumer demanding your product, and the dealer disposed to give it every preference, its steady sale is certain. Good will becomes a big reality in business when that good will extends to the consumer. More and better advertising will create the kind of good will that every manufacturer needs most.

OF THEIR WHEATFarmers Figure That They Can Better Afford to Feed Some Wheat
Than Buy Corn

ONLY WORTH 97 CENTS A BU.

Nature Of Wheat Is Such That It
Is Not Suitable To Feed Alone
But With Other Grains

According to the county agent's office, a great number of farmers in Rush county are planning to feed at least a part of their wheat crop this year, rather than sell it at below the cost of production. It is figured that wheat is worth about 95 to 97 cents per bushel to feed, on the basis of the prevailing price that farmers are paying for corn, so farmers can better afford to feed some wheat rather than buy corn.

Even where the farm does not need to buy corn to feed, it is considered by some that he can better afford to feed wheat and sell corn, rather than feed corn and sell his wheat, for corn can be sold at a profit and wheat can not. Then the farmer would stand just as good a chance of realizing 95-97 cents a bushel from his wheat as he would of breaking even on feeding 85c corn, and if future hog prices are high enough to yield a profit the farmer would perhaps realize a dollar or more for his wheat.

Of course, the nature of wheat is such that it would not be suitable to feed alone, but should be either ground with other grains or soaked. Some farmers are planning to grind wheat with corn, oats and rye, and this mixture would prove an excellent feed for hogs if mixed in the proper proportions.

The farmer who is buying high priced commercial feeds, both the mixed feeds and such feeds as middlings and bran, can especially afford to feed wheat, as can be seen by comparing the relative prices of these feeds with the price of wheat. When a farmer sells his wheat at 88 cents per bushel, this amounts to only $29.33 per ton, and if he wanted to sell a ton of wheat and buy a ton of middlings he would have to take up $12.67 additional cash to

INTERESTED IN MARKETING

Farmers May Obtain "Cooperative
Marketing" Book from Co. Agent

Farmers are becoming more interested in cooperative marketing of farm products, and in order that they may receive information along this line, the Rush County Farm Bureau has purchased a number of copies of Herman Steen's "Cooperative Marketing," which will be placed in the office of the organization to be loaned to farmers who care to read the work.

The book is the newest work out on the subject and is recommended very highly by leaders in agriculture and authorities in marketing. Farmers interested in the subject should avail themselves of the opportunity to read the book. There will be no charge for the loan of the work to members of the organization.

NEW WEEDS BROUGHT TO AGENT TO IDENTIFYOne A Species of Wild Barley Which is Dangerous if in Fields Where Cattle Feed

BEARDS ARE INJURIOUS

A number of new weeds have been brought into the office of the Rush county agent lately for identification one of which is a species of wild barley or squirrel-tail grass. This weed is a very fine-stemmed grass with a rye-like head carrying very long, fine beards which are as long as the head itself. These beards make the plant a very dangerous weed, especially if it gets started in fields where cattle are running.

The beards are armed with very small, sharp barbs which will tend to cause them to penetrate the intestine of the animal causing dangerous infection and inflammation. Often, if the plant is eaten in great amounts, these beards will form "hair balls" in the intestinal tract of the animal which may prove serious.

The plant is an annual, maturing its seed in one year and dying down in the fall. Therefore, the method of eradication is to keep it mowed down so that it will not get a chance to form seeds.

CHINCH BUGS REPORTED
IN TWO-THIRDS OF STATECreosote Barrier Found Most Effective Measure To Prevent Damage To Corn

Chinch bugs are now showing up conspicuously in rye, wheat and barley fields in many sections of Indiana especially in the northern two-thirds of the state, and with the cutting of the grain they are moving rapidly into the adjoining corn and oats fields, according to reports received by the entomology department of Purdue University.

One of the best means of protecting corn and oats is the use of barriers around the grain stubble at harvest and of all the barriers which have been tried, the creosote barrier which has been used to save thousands of acres of corn in Indiana, remains the most efficient.

The accompanying diagram gives a good idea of the construction of the barrier. It consists in throwing up a ridge of earth around the grain field, at least on the side next to corn or oats, the digging of post holes with sloping, cone-shaped top to trap the bugs, and a line of creosote to repel the bugs. This barrier is fully described in Extension Bulletin 99 which will be sent by addressing the Purdue Agricultural Extension Department, Lafayette, Indiana.

Creosote for this work, commonly designated Chinch Bug Creosote, is obtainable from the Republican Creosoting Company, Merchants Bank Building, Indianapolis, Indiana, and the F. J. Lewis Manufacturing Co., 2500 South Robey St., Chicago Ill. or their agents. It costs about 22 or 24 cents a gallon in 55-gallon barrels or cheaper in carload lots and these companies are prepared to handle orders immediately. Telephone or telegraph orders are suggested to secure the promptest service. One barrel of the creosote is sufficient to maintain a half-mile of furrow. The barrier is simple and easy to maintain when once established. Full information can be obtained from county agents or in the bulletin mentioned.

Gas tar, obtainable from local gas manufacturing plants, has been used effectively in some instances as a substitute for the creosote but is not dependable as the tar varies considerably in the content of the material which makes creosote so effective as a repellent.

The dust barrier, constructed by plowing a furrow and dragging a log through the furrow to maintain a dusty mulch is effective but requires considerable labor and is not permanent since rains make it ineffective. It is however an excellent temporary barrier to be used until creosote can be obtained.

BROWN RENEWS
OLD LINE CHARGEE. C. Brown, National Live Stock
Head, Says Decline in Hog Prices
Due to Producer's Commission

REFUTED BY JOHN BROWN

Farmer Brown Points Out Inaccuracies to Statement Calling Attention to Supply and Demand Law

When he made the absurd charge that the decline in hog prices was due to the success of the producers owned co-operative commission companies in securing such large volumes of business, Everett C. Brown, president of the National Live Stock Exchange, voiced accurately the fear of the old-line companies. John F. Brown, president of the National Live Stock Producers Association, has issued a statement pointing out the inaccuracies in the Exchange head's conclusions. Farmer Brown informs Commissionman Brown that the decline in hog prices is due to unusually large receipts and states that the co-operators understand the basic economic truth of the law of supply and demand. He charges the spokesman of the old-line commission men with mis-stating the facts and upbraids the Exchange for discriminating against the stock raisers in favor of the country speculator. He further charges that the old-line commission firms have boycotted the farmers' co-operative sales agencies until ordered to cease the practice by the Department of Agriculture under the new Packers and Stock Yards Control Law.

SPLENDID TRAINING GIVEN

Following its usual custom, the Rush County Farm Bureau will send a Rush county young woman to the State Fair School of Home Economics, August 27 to Sept. 8. The local farmers organization has sent a representative to this school every year since 1920 when the county was represented by a young woman from Noble township.

The plan is to send a representative until each township has been represented, and at a recent meeting of the board of directors lots were drawn to determine which township would get to pick the county representative. Jackson township was the township chosen and the young woman will be picked by the township president. Richmond township drew second place and will therefore select the alternate.

Those who have had the honor of representing the county in the past three years at the school testify to the value of the training given at the school and the enjoyment they have gotten out of the work. The training includes work in cooking, selection of foods, sewing, household management, home nursing and health.

Lafayette, Ind., July 17.—More than 400 litters have been nominated by members of the Hoosier Ton Litter Club to compete for the medals offered by the Indiana Livestock Breeders Association, according to J. R. Wiley, State Leader of the Club.

Henry county leads in number of members nominating litters fifteen different men showing up with litters of eight or more. Newton county runs a close second with eleven members nominating litters. Adams, Jackson, Noble, Posey, Rush, Sullivan, Union and Wells counties stand close to the leading counties in the litters enrolled.

A total of 2684 litters were reported to the office of the Secretary by the 854 members enrolled in the club. This is 500 more litters than were reported a year ago.

Otto Holle of Adams county led the membership of the entire state in the success that he had in raising large litters. His thirteen sows raising 117 pigs until weaning time, an average of nine pigs to the sow.

H. B. Wason a Purdue graduate in 1911, Lake county reported the largest number of litters farrowed of any member in the club, 44 sows. He had excellent success, raising better than seven pigs to the litter

2 COUNTIES WAGE WAR ON THE RAT

Anti-Rat Campaign Conducted In Jefferson And Morgan Counties Recently Was Successful

BARIUM-CARBONATE USED

Chief Value Of Campaign Was Fact Everybody Was Aroused To Point Of Killing The Rodents

The anti-Rat Campaign was conducted in city of Madison and Jefferson County, recently resulted in the killing of thousands of rats throughout the county. Carlyle Carr, a representative from the U. S. Department of Biological Survey, assisted in arranging the campaign and starting work. A meeting was called of representative citizens at the Commercial Club, at Madison, on April 26, for all of the farmers and business men who were interested in the campaign. Mr. Carr gave an interesting discussion on rats and damage done by them yearly. The estimated loss by rats in the city of Madison is $16,000 per year and $25,000 per year in the county, according to Mr. Carr. A young rat will breed at the age of three months and will produce six litters with an average of ten per litter. At that rate, a pair of rats in three years will produce three thousand and fifty nine million rats. The finance committee secured an appropriation of $75 from the city of Madison and $75 from the county, making a total of $150 to carry on the campaign. After the funds had been raised, 600 pounds of Barium-Carbonate was ordered to furnish free to farmers and citizens generally for poisoning of rats, 3,000 small sacks of the poison being distributed. Newspaper publicity and posters were used to inform the people of the campaign and concerted action was secured. The work of counting rat tails and awarding prizes was put in charge of the sheriff.

KILLING OFF LIES HELPS MILK FLOW

Three Factors, Hot Weather, Poor Pasture And Flies Tend To Reduce Supply During Summer

2 BEYOND FARMER'S CONTROL

During Fly Time Each Herd Should Be Sprayed Once Or Twice Daily With Some Spray Mixture

There are three factors that tend to reduce the flow of milk during the summer, hot weather, poor pasture and flies. First and to some extent the second, are beyond control of the dairymen but the loss from the third can be greatly reduced if proper steps are taken at the right time. Sanitation and the use of a good fly spray will greatly reduce the loss caused by flies, say Purdue University dairymen. This loss is due partly to the direct loss of blood drawn from the animal by the insects. The great numbers that infest the herd day and night gorge themselves with large quantities of blood. Besides this, the excitement and annoyance caused during the heat of the day when the herd seeks some shady place to find comfort, exerts no small influence on the daily milk-flow. Flies may become so troublesome at certain season of the year that animals are driven frantic. This not only affects the milk flow but may even lead to a loss of flesh. The removal of all unnecessary material around the yards, especially fresh horse manure is a very effective means of controlling the fly menace. The darker the stable can be kept during the heat of the day the better. White wash darkened with some coloring matter such as lamp black may be applied to the windows. Sacking hung from the top of the door keeps the stable dark while the cows are entering and also serves to brush off a number at the same time. Some dairies equip the windows and doors with screens. This is especially valuable when the practice of keeping the herd indoors during the heat of the day is followed.

During fly time each herd should be sprayed once or twice daily with some spray mixture. No fly repellent has yet been devised which is satisfactory as a permanent spray. But there are a number which greatly reduce the attacks of these insects. There are a number of proprietary makes on the market which are satisfactory, but a home-made preparation can be easily prepared at less cost which is equally efficient. The following mixture is claimed to protect the cow for at least one day, if the application is carefully made.

Mish oil—2 quarts
Oil of Tar—1 quart
Crude Carbolic Acid—3-5 ounces.
All these materials are mixed and then thoroughly sprayed over the animal. Apply lightly, otherwise injurious results may occur. Spraying may be done with a hand or bucket force pump in such a way as to provide a uniform coating of mist over the animal. Particular attention should be given to wetting those parts most affected by flies, but in no case should any part of the animal be drenched completely to the skin. The best time to make applications is just after milking before the cows are turned to pasture. This spray mixture should be procurable from the local drug store at a cost of $1.00 to $1.25 per gallon.

More detailed information may be found in Extension Bulletin No. 105. It may be obtained upon request by writing the Department of Entomology, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

Free range will not aid much in the development of chicks these warm days if the youngsters are confined to the colony houses in the morning and released only when the sun is high enough to drive them to the shade. Free range from daybreak to noon is worth more than all the rest of the day, in the feed and exercise afforded. The Farm Journal, July 1923.

TREATED WHEAT IS FREE OF SMUT

Smut Has Been Entirely Controlled by Hot Water Treatment, According to Inspection Reports

SHOWS VALUE OF METHOD

Treatment of Wheat to Control Disease Job For Groups of Farmers and Not Individual

The hot water treated wheat fields are looking fine and in every field examined in a score of counties the smut has been entirely controlled by the treatment is the report brought back to Purdue University by C. T. Gregory of the botany extension staff who has charge of the smut control work in Indiana. In Wabash county ten farmers clubbed together last fall and treated enough wheat to plant a field on the farm of C. W. Thompson. The wheat will be used for seed by the farmers in this community. This is the first time such a method of solving the loose smut problem has been tried in Indiana and some such method is said to be necessary to completely overcome this disease.

The black dust of this smutty wheat is made up of spores of the wheat smut and when this dust is scattered by the wind to the wheat heads, the smut is ready to destroy the heads next year. If one man treats his wheat and his neighbors all plant smutted wheat, the clean field will become reinfested and the treatment must be repeated. Mr. Thompson and seven of his neighbors, Glenn Duffey, Abe Garrison, Harvey Waggoner, Elijah Floyd, Frank Muchmore, Homer Cecil, and Matt Garrison, will overcome this difficulty by forming a smut-free area around Mr. Thompson's farm where the seed wheat is to be grown. Some of the farmers in Posey county have shown that consistent treating of their wheat will banish the loose smut and keep it banished. Carl Mann has July wheat that was treated three years ago and this year it has less than 1 percent of smut in it. Phillip Scheiber has wheat that was treated two years ago and there is much less than 1 percent of smut in it.

These facts all show that the treatment of wheat to control smut is not a job for the individual farmer but for groups of farmers who will agree to treat their own wheat or at least will use seed from treated fields.

WHITE WASH HELPS CLEAN DAIRY BARN

A coat of white wash applied to Dairy stables improves the appearance and also adds to the cleanliness and sanitation a good deal. This can be done with little expense, if the material is on hand, some rainy day. The accompanying recipes offered by Purdue dairymen give a good mixture for application. The Government Whitewash is made as follows: Slack half a bushel of lime in boiling water, covering to keep in steam. Strain the liquid and add a peck of salt previously dissolved in warm water, three pounds ground rice boiled to a thin paste and stirred in while hot, one-half pound of Spanish whiting, and one pound glue dissolved by soaking in cold water and then hung over a slow fire in a glue pot. To this mixture add five gallons of hot water, stir well, and let stand for several days covered from dust. It is best applied hot.

Ordinary Whitewash is as follows: Slack 10 pounds quick lime with 2 gallons water. Allow to stand in pail for 1 hour before using.

These mixtures are best applied by means of a spray pump but may be put on by means of a brush.

At the recent meeting of the board of directors of the Rush County Farm Bureau it was voted to purchase membership gate signs to be distributed among the members of the organization that they may tack them up on their gates to designate their farm as one represented by a membership in the Rush County Farm Bureau. It is hoped to have the signs here and ready for distribution in a short time.

TWO COUNTIES WAGE WAR ON THE RAT

paign was the fact that everybody in the county was aroused to the point that they were thinking about killing rats. For instance, one man who thought he had no rats, started digging around the corner of an old building and found 17 rats in just a few minutes. Another man was aroused to the point that he moved an old floor (which probably would have been left for two or three years) and killed 118 rats. The goal in the campaign was 20,000 rats and from the best figures available, making it conservative, there were 15,000 rats killed in Morgan County, which when counted as doing $2.00 worth of damage each, per year, would amount to $30,000 saved on an investment of a little effort and $100 in cash (for the purchase of Barium-Carbonate).

Kokomo—Twenty-four tons of grass were cut in Houston park. The grass will be used as feed for the horses of the city street cleaning department.

BROWN RENEWS
OLD LINE CHARGE

hogs being $1 under the cost of production is due to co-operative selling agencies. He further states that while hogs are losing money, cattle and sheep are making money and hog prices are high in Canada. Since the co-operative selling agencies handle relatively few cattle and sheep as compared with their hog business and since there are no 'co-ops' in Canada, he concludes that they are the cause of the low price of hogs, and urges the stock raisers to return to the old-line commission firms of which he is spokesman. Everett C. Brown says in effect that the co-operative marketing business of his former customers is so successful that they cannot handle it as well as his privately owned firms can.

"Everett C. Brown's opinion regarding the low hog market is wholly at variance with the facts which he has at hand. Market statistics show that local cattle receipts for the month of June were the smallest since 1917. Light receipts make for higher prices. Likewise the receipts of sheep for June were the lightest in more than 30 years. These good prices were due to sensationally light runs and not to the fact that the

'co-ops' have not yet invaded those departments of the market as fully as they have the hog department. "The same market statistics show that more hogs were on the Chicago market this June than ever before in the history of June markets. A similar condition occurred in 1911, with similar effect, and that was long before co-operative marketing of hogs was under way. Too many hogs for the entire market and not just too many hogs for the competitor of the National Live Stock Exchange was the true cause of the break in prices. Canadian markets received only 50,000 hogs during June; Canadian bacon is always at a premium; the light runs and strong demand caused good prices over there.

"Between November and July, seven western markets received 5,000,000 more hogs than in the same period in either of the two years just preceding. Hog shipments from eleven corn belt states to all markets increased 32.2 percent this year as compared with the year preceding in the period from November 1 to June 1.

"We who make up and manage the co-operative selling agencies have all been customers of some member of the National Live Stock Exchange. We are not unschooled in market practices. We raise livestock to sell we sell it through our own organization at the terminal markets and are pleased with our own handling of our own stock. We are returning this year 30 cents of every dollar that we have charged for commission at the Chicago market. We have returned even larger dividends at other markets. We have ample funds to hire the best selling talent and have done so. Furthermore, we have proved to ourselves that controlling as we do an enormous amount of live stock offered for sale, we stabilize the price much more than if we were 15 firms doing one-fiftieth of the business we now do. We handle from 15 to 35 percent of the total receipts in markets where we operate.

"The law of supply and demand comes nearer operating in live stock than in almost any other farm product. It is a matter of record that overproduction without orderly marketing means lower prices; low prices sometimes come without overproduction in a disorderly market because our product is all dumped at a certain season. In such cases the speculator gets our product and the consumer gets no benefit of the low price which the producer receives. These conditions we seek to relieve by uniting our selling power and placing our goods on the market as it is needed; we will also relieve the transportation situation in this way."

BLACK RUST INFECTION

Wheat Field on Patterson Farm, Formerly Infected, is Free From Smut This Year

BUSH WAS FOUND ON FARM

About a year ago a survey was made of Rush county to locate and destroy common barberry bushes that were responsible for carrying over the fungus that causes black stem rust in wheat. During this survey Rush county was found to be harboring the largest barberry bush found in the state of Indiana on the farm of Derius Patterson in Richland township.

At the time a story appearing in the press about the finding of the bush and pointed out that in one field just north of the lot in which the bush grew the wheat had been badly rusted for the past score of years. The last wheat grown in this field tested only 47 pounds to the bushel.

It is reported by the township chairman of Richland township, H. L. Beall, that the wheat in this field this year is free from smut and will probably be of good quality. This demonstrates conclusively that the barberry does have a bearing on black rust infection and should be destroyed.

The county agent has received only one report of black stem rust infection in the county this year, and he announces that he would like to hear from any farmer having black rust so that a survey can be made of the surrounding country for the purpose of finding the offending barberry.

A nicotine spray is made by dissolving a cubic inch of cheap laundry or fish-oil soap in a gallon of water to which is added a tablespoonful of 40 percent nicotine sulphate. A 10 percent kerosene emulsion properly prepared will give the same results. Neither of these sprays will injure the corn if precautions are taken not to spray into the heart of the growing shoot. Two percent free nicotine dust is likewise effective, easy to apply, and relatively inexpensive.

JOHNSON VOTE NEAR LANDSLIDE

Farmer-Labor Candidate Elected to United States Senate in Minnesota by Big Plurality

WILL AMOUNT TO 70,000

Leading Governor J. A. O. Preus by 55,000 Votes With 2,572 of 3,521 Precincts Counted

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Minn., July 17—Conferees to plan a third national political party were held here by the farmer-labor leaders who engineered the "farmer revolt" in Minnesota and elected Magnus Johnson to the United States senate.

St. Paul, Minn., July 17—Plurality of Magnus Johnson "dirt farmer" elected United States senator in yesterday's balloting, grew into a landslide at noon today.

The farmer-labor victor's margin passed the 55,000 mark and the final plurality of more than 70,000 over Governor J. A. O. Preus, was predicted.

With 2,572 precincts out of 3,521 counted, the vote stood: Johnson, 246,202; Preus, 191,069.

Johnson will fill out the unexpired term of the late Knute Nelson, who died April 28, and will be a candidate for reelection in 1924.

He returned today to the section of land he won in Meeker county to help with the haying. With typical Swedish accent, Johnson said he "liked to help with the chores" around the farm.

Governor J. A. Preus, who decided against resigning to have himself appointed to the vacancy, tasted his first political defeat. Just forty, and at the peak of a promising political career, he was caught in the maelstrom of farmer unrest in the state. Going down to defeat he was kicked by some of his erstwhile staunch supporters.

"If the Republican party in Minnesota is not in a chastened frame of mind this morning then it is just redemption," said the Pioneer Press, editorially. The Pioneer Press and Dispatch supported Governor Preus during the campaign.

"Governor Preus who began a political career under exceptionally favorable auspices finds himself the victim of an attempt to play both ends against the middle," the editorial continued.

"It can't be done in politics or anywhere else."

"Good God; Good devil," is a mighty poor platform for anybody. Instead of representing something he represented very little beside a personal ambition to succeed Senator Nelson."

It was the second political dud within a year between Governor Preus and Senator Johnson. Last November they fought it out for the governorship. Governor Preus won by a narrow margin.

State Senator James A. Carley was the Democratic nominee. He received only negligible vote yesterday.

Johnson's victory was not a surprise. It was presaged by the election last November by Dr. Henri Shipstead, farmer-labor, over Frank B. Kellogg, one of the Republican "old guard" in the senate.

With the two farmer-labor senators (Continued on Page 6)

RETIRED MERCHANT DROWNS IN A LAKE

Otis Hudelson, Prominent Knightstown Man, Found Dead in Lake Near This City This Morning

WAS IN CLOTHING BUSINESS

The body of Otis L. Hudelson, prominent and well known resident of Knightstown, was found floating in Knightstown Lake, just west of Knightstown this morning.

Mr. Hudelson had been in business until a few days ago and was associated as a partner with Ed Williams in the George W. Williams clothing store in Knightstown. The partnership was dissolved a few days ago, with Mr. Williams retaining the interests.

The Henry county coroner was investigating the death today, and had not returned a verdict. The deceased left home this morning at five o'clock and his body was found two hours later floating on the water. If the motive was suicide, no reasons could be assigned for his actions.

The deceased was 45 years old, and had lived in Knightstown all of his life. He is survived by the widow and a daughter, Rosemary. The funeral arrangements were indefinite today.

SALESMAN SPENDS THE NIGHT IN JAIL

W. A. Doubt, Cincinnati, Refunds $25 Which Shelby Bush Overpaid Him and is Released

CONTROVERSY OVER A BILL

W. A. Doubt, a traveling salesman of Cincinnati, spent the night in jail upon complaint of Shelby Bush, a butcher at the Week's Meat Market, following a controversy over the payment of a bill, in which it is said that the butcher overpaid $25, and the salesman refused to refund it.

During the argument, Doubt was struck by the butcher, it is said, and then the salesman made his getaway, leaving his hat and coat behind, as well as his automobile, that was parked along Third street. The police guarded his machine for several hours, but he failed to appear, and after six o'clock sent some boys for it. Patrolman Lakin and Sheriff Hunt trailed the boys to a point below New Salem, where Doubt had gone in another machine, and he was arrested and placed in jail.

It was stated this morning that the salesman agreed to refund the $25, and no charge was filed against him, and his release was affected from jail.

OPPOSED TO PRICE FIXING

Southwestern Grain Producers Association Thus Goes on Record

Wichita, Ka., July 17—Diversified farming and cooperative marketing were urged as the means for solving the wheat price problem by the organization meeting of the Southwestern Grain Producers association here.

The producers must work out their own salvation, the conference decided. Government action to establish the price of wheat was not favored.

Collapse of Wheat Prices Blamed for "Farmer Revolt"

St. Paul, Minn., July 17—Collapse of wheat prices on the Chicago Board of Trade, coming at the psychological moment was greatly responsible for the "farmer revolt" that elected Magnus Johnson, United States senator.

The campaign between Johnson and Governor J. A. O. Preus was about even when news came last week that wheat had dropped below $1 on the Chicago market.

Quick to grasp his advantage, Johnson hammered his "farmer relief" platform at the senator-dinner.

"Well, I beat Yake," he commented today. "I'm United States senator by yimminy. What you tink of that?"

EVIDENCE GOES BEFORE TAX BOARD

Hearing on Remonstrance Against Jesse Havens County Unit Road Taken Under Adversement

Evidence in the hearing conducted Monday on the remonstrance against the bond issue for the Jess Havens road, in the southern part of Rushville township, will be presented to the state board of tax commissioners by Will A. Hough, member of the board who conducted the hearing.

The remonstrators alleged that the whole county should not be compelled to pay for the road, as provided under the county unit law, because Rushville townships people would be the only ones in the county to profit from it.

It was furthermore set out that eight of the twelve townships in the county have already exceeded the bonded indebtedness limit of two per cent for roads and that the construction of the road would work a hardship on them.

The road has been pending for more than four years. When the petition was filed, the county commissioners, who are viewers for county unit road petitions, held that the road should be built, two voting for it and one against it, and the late Seth Moore filed a claim for $1,500 to pay for erecting fences along the road where it would pass through his farm.

The commissioners appointed reviewers and they held that Mr. Moore was entitled to $245 damages. The (Continued on Page Three)

Inheritance Tax is Smallest on Record Here

Two Heirs of Late James Hall of Center Township Pay Nine Cents Each, Being Taxed One Percent on $9.30.

The smallest inheritance tax on record was collected at the Rush county treasurer's office in the court house today. It amounted to exactly eighteen cents and was paid by two heirs of the estate of the late James Hall of Center township.

The county netted about twelve cents in the transaction as six cents had to be spent in postage in notifying the administrator of the estate that the tax was due, in sending the receipt for the tax by mail and for one other notice that had to be sent in regard to the matter.

The estate of the late Mr. Hall amounted to $6,527.91 and was inherited by the widow and two children. The law allows the widow an exemption on any sum up to $15,000 and children under eighteen years of age are not required to pay tax on any sum up to $5,000. If over eighteen years of age, children are required to pay tax on all money over $2,000 that is inherited.

It was this estate that was involved in collecting eighteen cents. Each of the children is over eighteen years of age and each came into possession of $2,009.30 in the division of the estate, meaning that the tax of one percent was levied on $9.30 in each case.

In addition to the expense of mailing notices and receipts, Earl P. Priest, inheritance tax appraiser, was paid a fee of $8.50 for his services. This expense is met by the estate, however. Oliver Rich of Straughns is the administrator.

TURKS WINS THEIR BATTLE

Protested Oil Concessions Will Not be Mentioned in Treaty

Lausanne, France, July 17—The Turks supported by the American delegates won their big oil fight from the British at the Near East peace conference early today.

It was agreed that the protested oil concessions would not be mentioned in the peace treaty being drawn up, which is nearly ready for signatures.

The Americans were not present. Ismet Pasha spoke of the co-operation of the Turks and United States in the matter.

SAYS HUSBAND IS 'SET IN HIS WAYS'

Ada White of Charlottesville Files Suit Against Alvin A. White For a Divorce

ASKS A RESTRAINING ORDER

Alleges Threat Was Made to Kill Her and Son-in-law—Claims Against Estates Docketed

A divorce suit and several claims against estates were among the new suits filed in the circuit court today. In the divorce suit the plaintiff is Ada White and the defendant Alvin A. White, residents of Charlottesville.

The plaintiff alleges that they were married January 18 and separated July 5 of this year, and she charges him with cruel treatment, in that he was "set in his ways," would "pout" and sulk, slam the furniture and curse. He also is charged with accusing her falsely of being intimate with her son-in-law, and with borrowing a gun with which to kill the son-in-law if he came near their home. He also threatened to kill the plaintiff, the complaint says.

Mrs. White demands a restraining order to prevent her husband from molesting her, or from coming to her house, which she says she owns. She also asks that the court restore her former name of Ada Anderson.

In the list of claims filed against estates, the following have been placed on the docket and will be set for a hearing in September:

Michael F. Foust against Charles W. Foust, administrator of the estate of Mary J. Foust, demand for $59.94.

J. B. Colt Company against Mary Shoppelle, administrator of the estate of Rex Shoppelle, demand for $289.55.

Alvin O. Moore against Henry W. Beckner, administrator of the estate of George Beckner, two complaints, one for $84.40 and the other for $65.60.

Charles Nordloh against Ethel B. Posey, administrator of the estate of Jessie Posey, demand for $10.50.

Charles A. Cartwright against Lafe Hall, administrator of the estate of George W. Legg, demand for $35.00.

A. W. Helms against Lafe Hall, administrator of the estate of George W. Legg, demand for $547.25.

INDIANA GASOLINE TAX YIELDS $300,000

Approximately 60 Million Gallons Of "Gas" Were Used During The Month Of June

TEST SUIT, REGARDED LIKELY

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—Receipts on the state gasoline tax for the month of June totaled $300,000, Robert Bracken, state auditor, announced today.

About 150 oil distributing companies made payment to the state. Charles C. Benjamin, chief of the collecting department, said the figure was probably under the normal amount of gasoline consumed during June as many persons filled their tanks with gasoline before the law went into effect in order to prevent payment of fees.

Approximately sixty million gallons of gasoline were used during the month, the report shows. After the cost of maintaining the collection department has been deducted, the money will be turned over to the state highway commission for development of the state roads.

Concerted action on the part of automobile manufacturers and oil distributing firms, against the two cent gasoline tax, was seen when the Studebaker Corporation of South Bend, made formal protest of payment.

Remittance of the first installment due under the gasoline tax law, was made, but the company said the payment was made involuntarily under protest and by compulsion of law, in order to prevent the execution of penalties mentioned. The tax was denounced as a violation of the state constitution and of the constitution of the United States.

The Sinclair Oil and Refining Company made a similar objection last week.

COUNTY BOYS CAMP UNDER WAY TODAY

Thirty-Four Boys Go For Outing West of Morristown—Two Periods of Seven Days Each

CAMP PREPARED FOR THEM

The Rush county boys camp got under way this morning when thirty-four boys who qualified to attend were taken to the camp in a school back. The camp will be in session for fourteen days, according to present plans, and will be in charge of Albert F. Cotton, director of physical education in the Rushville schools, and D. R. Merrell, Boy Scout scoutmaster from this city.

Forty boys had signed up for the camp Monday, but six of them failed to put in an appearance today and were expected to join the camp later. Five of the boys are from the vicinity of Maecilla and the remainder are from Rushville and vicinity.

While some of the boys may stay in camp only one week, others will go to camp for the second period so that the number attending will not be materially reduced.

Everything was in readiness for the reception of the boys this morning, with the exception that eleven more cots were needed, and the committee on equipment expected to get them this afternoon.

FESTIVAL WELL ATTENDED

The lawn festival given at the city park Monday night under the auspices of the Young Men's Circle of the Main Street Christian Sunday school was well patronized, total receipts amounting to $291.96. The class announced today that it was indebted to many women who assisted by baking cakes and making candy which was donated for the festival. The Circle band provided music during the evening.

EVERY COUNTY TO BE REPRESENTED

Conference of Men and Women Chairmen Unexpected Feature of "Welcome for Walb" Meeting

THURSDAY IN INDIANAPOLIS

Call Issued Because of so Many County Leaders Announcing They Would Attend "Welcome"

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17—A call was issued today for the Republican State Committee to meet here Thursday for a conference with the men and women county chairmen as an added and unexpected feature of the program for the "Welcome for Walb", the party lovefeast given for Clyde A. Walb, the new chairman of the state committee. The conference will be held at 2:30 p. m., Thursday with indications now that every county will be present.

The call for the committee meeting, it was understood, was issued because of the large number of the county leaders having indicated their intention to attend the lovefeast. As an addition to the program for the "Welcome for Walb", the conference is to take advantage of having so many county leaders assembled at one time.

With all party leaders sponsoring the lovefeast, advance indications are that the event will be the outstanding political gathering for this year, and with the conference of leaders that was called for today it may be regarded that the republican presidential campaign of next year is getting under way.

The program for the "welcome" calls for Mr. Walb and his friends to extend greetings to all visitors from 9:30 a. m., the reception being held on the Severin hotel roof garden. A speaking program includes Postmaster General New, Senator Watson, Governor McCray, James P. Goodrich, Winfield T. Durbin, Lawrence A. Lyons, Mr. Walb, Joseph B. Keating, Will H. Hays, Miss Dorothy Cunningham, associate member of the Republican National Committee, Miss Etelka Roekenbach, and Mrs. Edna Herr Backlin, vice-chairman of the state committee.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO LOCATE CABIN

Rotarians and Kiwanians to Dismantle Birthplace of Gen. Hackleman For Removal Here

ROTARY CLUB MEETS TODAY

It was decided at the regular meeting of the Rotary club today at noon at the Social club to hold next week's meeting at the Rush county boys camp west of Morristown next Tuesday evening, when families of Rotarians will be guests. The Rotarians expect to eat a picnic supper at the camp and take along some extra refreshments for the boys in camp. Entertainment will also be provided.

A committee was also announced to dismantle the General P. A. Hackleman cabin in Franklin county next Monday and bring it to Rushville for erection in the new addition to the park that is being purchased by the city. The committee is composed of the following:

Rotarians—Walter Easley, Frank Abercrombie, Will Feudner, Jack Knecht, Harry Wyatt, Louis Manzy, Carl Behr, Donald Ball, Gunn Haydon and George Griesser; Kiwanians—Frank Catt, Will Trennepohl, Curt Hester, Walter Thomas, Omer Trusler, Earl Osborne, Nick Tompkins, Birney Farthing, Nora Norris and John Knecht.

Guests at the Rotary meeting today included Henry Newkirk of Muncie, Walter Havens of Ely, Nevada, and Howard Mullin of Huntington, Ind., all of whom spoke briefly.

Indiana Law On Sale Of Stock Re-

Have Money To Invest

MANY PEOPLE LOST HEAVY

Before law Was Enacted, All Sorts
Of Worthless Schemes Were Used
By Stock Grafters

By MAURICE L. MENDENHALL
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—Promotion for "promotion" sake and for the "promoter's sake" has lost its attractiveness in Indiana. Prior to the enactment of the Indiana Securities law, the stock selling business in Indiana afforded the individual who chose to live by wits a happy hunting ground.

There is not a single community in this state but what witnessed the atrocities committed under those conditions. The Indiana securities law was designed for the purpose of minimizing the gigantic frauds and thought was given to the phraseology of the statute to accomplish this purpose.

Honest promotion and development could not be stopped without serious injury to the state, and a law which would prevent the further development of our resources, which would make impossible the perfection and use of the new ideas of our citizens when such ideas had been protected by patents would be against public policy and therefore a backward step.

On the other hand unless graft was removed from the promotion of a new enterprise, not only would hundreds of our citizens be robbed of the fruits of their labors, but confidence in securities as an investment would be destroyed, and with this destruction of confidence would follow a period in which legitimate business and legitimate development and expansion would suffer from the lack of necessary capital with which to carry on. It is obvious that the problem was intricate and required much thought.

It is agreed that the individual who by the resourcefulness of his mind is able to create an invention of great economic value or the individual who by his industry and forthrightness is able to contribute assets of great value to a corporation and is entitled to a remuneration for such contribution if such contribution has a real value and if the contributor is sincere and honest.

The law is so drafted as to protect the individual who by the resourcefulness of his mind is able to create an invention of great economic value or the individual who by his industry and forthrightness is able to contribute assets of great value to a corporation and is entitled to a remuneration for such contribution if such contribution has a real value and if the contributor is sincere and honest.

SCIENCE SEEKS METHOD TO USE U. S. LIGNITE

Montreal, July 17.—Science's quest for a method that will add lignite char to the available fuel supplies of the United States was described at a session of the Fuels Division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers here today by O. P. Hood, chief mechanical Engineers here today by O. P. Hood, chief mechanical engineer of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

"The Bureau of Mines is investigating the possibilities of a program," said Hood, "which has for its main features an inexpensive carbonizing device and the use of the lignite char direct, without briquetting. If a market for the char can be developed, and the small mine can produce char, there would be provided means for a natural evolution of an industry that in time might realize the larger vision of briquetting and realize the larger vision of briquetting and recovery of by-products.

"Lignite char can best be described in a few words as a fuel rather near in analysis to anthracite coal but softer, with a little more volatile matter, and thus kindling easier. Whether a market can be developed for such a fuel at prices around five dollars a ton at the mine, remains to be shown, but it is at least encouraging to know that Germany used last year 400,000 tons of similar material for domestic heating and cooking.

"This fuel burns well with natural draft where a thin fuel bed, about one and a half inches in thickness can be maintained. Base burners, cook stoves, and other heaters can be adapted to use the fuel satisfactorily. It makes a very clean fire is smokeless and the char is clean to handle. It is however, slow in getting under way as compared to a gas range."

The greatest difficulty with our lignite is the fact that in nearly every district where it should be the natural fuel it is put in competition with high-grade fuel, according to Hood, who continued:

"We are all spoiled by having been blessed with an abundance of the best so that we are impatient with the limitations of lower-grade fuels. If we had been obliged to go down 2,000 feet or more and win good coal from thin seams in scattered districts as they do in Europe, we would have long ago worked out a successful technique for utilizing our lignites. Canadian and North Dakota lignite must compete with anthracite and with Pittsburgh and Illinois bituminous coal; our Texas lignite must compete with gas, oil, and Oklahoma bituminous coal.

It is evident however that there must be a price at which the lower grade fuel will begin to be attractive. In round numbers the ratio is somewhere in the neighborhood of half the price of good coal. With the rising price of bituminous coal we are fast approaching the time when this ratio will be common."

Motorists to Help Keep Clean U. S. Beauty Spots

Washington, July 17.—Imagine the Grand Canyon filled with sardine tins and empty banana peelings; the Garden of Gods "decorated" lavishly with old newspapers, ketchup bottles and the like. You can't imagine such a condition.

But it needs no imagination to picture the defacing of other American beauty spots by careless motor tourists who leave all sorts of refuse and litter behind them when they move on, officials of the National Motorists' Association say.

"To help the motorist see that he is to blame for this nuisance, which affects him more than anyone else, and to show him a public-spirited way to preserve the natural beauties of the country as seen from an automobile, a movement has been started under the name of the Motorists' League for Countrywide Preservation," says a bulletin from the N. M. A.

Members in the new organization will be asked to take this pledge:

"I will make every effort to leave the roadside in such condition that the pleasure to be derived from it by others is not lessened through any careless act of mine."

President Harding is a charter member of the organization and of its "campaign committee".

Care in making and extinguishing campfires; elimination of useless destruction of shrubbery and trees, and a general policy of "clean up as you go" is the program of the organization.

case was appealed to the circuit court where it awaits trial.

Ripley, Orange, Posey, Walker, Anderson, Jackson, Noble and Richland townships have all exceeded their bonded indebtedness limit for roads and will be unable to build any new ones for some time to come. The bonded indebtedness limit was lowered from four percent to two percent by the last legislature, which accounts for many of the townships being overbonded for roads.

While some of the townships are not to be blamed for the condition in which they find themselves, due to the change in the law, it is pointed out that it would not be legal to place a further road debt on them, although the amount in each township would be small, to build the Havens road.

Orange, Walker and Anderson township have twice their bonded indebtedness on roads and Noble is very near for percent. There are six road petitions pending in Orange, but it will be several years before a road can be built in that township.

AMUSEMENTS

Band Coming to the Princess

A special attraction has been booked this week end at the Princess theatre, in the appearance of Earl Frazier Newberry and his band, which will appear at all performances Friday and Saturday in a concert.

The band is composed of sixteen pieces, and is now enroute to the southland, where it is scheduled to play at many of the state fairs, where it has appeared for many years as a headliner.

The concert will be varied and many soloists in the organization. The band is said to be equal to any organization of twice the number of instruments, and will no doubt prove to be a good drawing card for the week end theatre goers in this city.

Priscilla Dean Here Today

With an immortal story, a star of dynamic personality and a cast of players whose names might be played up separately as stars, "Under Two Flags" comes to the Princess Theatre again today as a Universal-Jewel offering of the highest standard.

Priscilla Dean stars as the pathetic Cigarette, James Kirkwood is opposite her, and John Davidson, Ethel Grey Terry, Stuart Holmes, W. H. Bainbridge, Fred Craven, Burton Law and Bobby Mack have other important parts.

Ouida did not dream of the success to which her story would come. She died in poverty in France and very few knew that the passing of Louise de la Ramee, as she was in private life, was the eclipse of a brilliant career. As is the case with many a great genius, she died without the reward that was justly hers. If she had lived but a few years longer fame immeasurable would have come to her.

Choosing such a mighty vehicle for Priscilla Dean, Universal executives knew that a director of unquestioned superiority would have to guide the filming. Tod Browning, who shares credit with Miss Dean for the phenomenal run of "Outside the Law" and "The Virgin of Stamboul," was assigned to repeat those successes.

"Rainbow" At The Mystic

In early scenes of "Rainbow," the Alice Calhoun production, which will be shown at the Mystic Theatre again today, the young star wears knee dresses of a rather antiquated type and one of the queerest little hats ever shown in pictures. The original model was trimmed by the star herself, but as she is used to trimming hats, owing to the fact that she makes all her own, she did not succeed in getting one grotesque enough to suit her director. Therefore when she appeared upon the set Edward Jose exclaimed:

"Oh, no, Miss Calhoun, that will never do. It looks too nice. Here,

The star handed him the necessary implements and the director took upon himself the position of a milliner. For over a half hour he labored trimming the hat in a way which satisfied him. When he had finished he had a creation which no society girl would care to wear.

"Rainbow" is a story of a young girl who is brought up by three foster-fathers who are engaged in working a mine for her. The young girl visits her uncle in the city and receives an education and polish. When she returns to the mine she has lost none of her charming simplicity but wins the heart of a youth who thought her too much of a child for his attention when she went away.

The Bucket Shops

What is said to be a national campaign is on to rid the country of "bucket shops" which have fleeced so many unsuspecting lambs in the investment field.

That is good. Such piratical hounds ought to go out of business and into jail.

But why stop at bucket shops? On the boards of trade and similar bodies under other names will be found just as big knives as any bucket shop ever hoisted.

Men with millions at their command corner markets and force prices up to dizzy heights, and when they reach the highest possible point these manipulators quickly unload and leave others who are less astute to hold the bag when the bubble bursts—as it always does. And all of this time millions of consumers are being gouged in order that the speculative gang may rake in additional profits.

Men devoid of principle wreck each other on boards of trade without qualms of conscience or the beat of an eye. They call it shrewd financing, and because of their ability to crush and destroy they are honored

Individualism Vs. Paternalism

When the people of the United States as a whole expect their energy to develop any undertaking, its success is virtually assured. The same holds true in regard to the individual initiative, energy and ambition of our private citizens who are leaders today in the development of modern conveniences and labor saving machinery and ideas.

This is illustrated by figures recently published showing that nearly 7 of the telephones in the world are owned and operated by private companies and that the majority of these private companies are in the United States. Most of the telephones not located in the United States are in Europe and are operated by the governments.

In this country there are 13 telephones for every 100 persons which means that almost every family in the country has a telephone. In Europe there is 1 telephone per 100 persons which means that the European service is of 13 times less value to the telephone subscriber than it is in this country and costs him considerably more.

Private initiative and enterprise under a form of government that allows its individual citizens to benefit by their labors and ambition will always outstrip a government-operated service which reduces the individual to a cipher and eliminates incentive by curtailing the reward for labor and incentive genius.

Is It Fair to Jones?

Bill Jones spent $100,000 building up an industry which employs 100 men. On this property he pays a school, road, county, state and corporate tax, and as it is inside the city limits, a city tax covering police and fire protection and all other city activities. In addition to this he pays the government income tax on any profit he makes.

Sam Smith, his neighbor, who has children that go to the public school with Bill's, whose property has the same police and fire protection, whose automobile travels on the same paved road as Bill's, and who has all advantage of city, county and state improvements that Bill does, has $100,000 invested in tax-exempt bonds and escapes all taxation which Bill has to pay to maintain the improvements which Sam enjoys.

Will Bill spend another $100,000 to enlarge his industry?

We talk about tax reduction while countenancing a system which places a premium upon tax-dodging and penalizes taxpayers who maintain industry and government.

Miss Edith Hiner's picture appeared in the Indianapolis Star this morning with a group of girls who left yesterday on the Star trip to the Lakes. It was a good looking bunch, too. Seems like the industrious girls won out on the European trip and the good looking girls won second money.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Offutt of East Sixth street entertained today in honor of the Rev. S. S. Offutt of Lawrenceburg. The guests were Charles Offutt and mother, Mrs. Mary Burdett and Mrs. Edna Dagher and children.

The dance given at the Modern Woodmen hall yesterday evening was one of the most enjoyable social events of the summer. The out-of-town guests were Miss Jessie Wells of Chicago; Miss Thornton of Iowa; Will Brann and John Early of Greenfield; Will Elliott and Wray Deprez of Shelbyville; Will Doyle of Connersville.

Spontaneous combustion was the cause of a $1500 fire last night when the oldest barn in Anderson township and one of the first frame structures in the county was totally destroyed. About eight o'clock the large barn of Freeman Elston, who lives one mile east of Milroy, was discovered in flames and before assistance could arrive, was reduced to ashes.

Harrie Jones started his trotter John Ward, in the Terre Haute races yesterday. The horse took the first heat in the record time of 2:05.3. In the second heat of the race the horse could do no better than fifth and was distanced in the third heat.

Mrs. Ralph Payne and children will leave Monday evening for Northern Michigan to spend the summer. Mr. Payne and mother, Mrs. Frances Payne, will follow in a few weeks for a short stay.

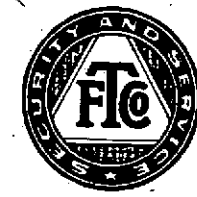

Mrs. Mary Demmer will return today from an extended visit at Seymour. Her daughter, Mrs. Lote Carter, will return with her for a visit. Mrs. Ruby Petry, daughter, Miss Katherine, and son, Harry, were the guests of friends in Milroy Thursday.

The fiscal year ending June 30 was a busy one at the local post-office. Figures just compiled show that 4450 people are being served by the city carriers and 4752 by the rural carriers. During the year 51 international money orders were issued, and three were paid. The office issued $159 domestic orders, and paid 3977. The office sent out 1494 pieces of registered mail, and received for delivery 1558. There were 250 pieces of registered mail handled in transit.

NEW DIRECTORS TO BE INTRODUCED

Indiana University Leaders In Athletics To Be Guests At "I" Men's Association Dinner

RUSHVILLE MAN A MEMBER

Cleaver, Ingram And Mann Will Outline Plans For New Athletic Administration At I. U.

Bloomington, Ind., July 17.—The Indiana University Men's Association, of which Russell Kirkpatrick, of Rushville, is a member, will fire the first gun of the I. U. fall athletic season at a dinner Thursday evening, July 19, at the Highland country club, Indianapolis. The dinner will be for the purpose of introducing Indiana athletic followers to the state university's new trio of coaches, Zora Cleaver, director of athletics, Bill Ingram, head football coach, and Leslie Mann, newly elected assistant director of athletics.

In their talks before the I. U. sport fans, Cleaver, Ingram and Mann will outline plans of the new athletic administration at Indiana, and will tell the ex-warriors of Jordan Field about the new stadium now under way at Bloomington. Cleaver is well known to Indiana men, not only as the one time best all-round athlete produced at Indiana university but also as the coach who since leaving his alma mater made the University of Tennessee the football champions of the south and later made a name for himself in football and basketball circles of the Middle west for teams turned out at the University of Missouri and at the Kansas State Agricultural College. Ingram is the former Navy star quarterback and coach, Mann is Indiana's basketball coach of last season who developed his sophomore quintet into one of the most feared teams in the Big Ten and the only team to defeat Iowa.

The Indiana "I" men are claiming their new coaching trio inferior to none in the Big Ten and are planning a rousing reception for them at the coming Indianapolis dinner. Delegations of "I" men and other I. U. sport lovers from various parts of the state will be met at the Haystack hotel at 6 o'clock on the evening of the dinner by a reception committee of Indianapolis alumni and will be escorted in a body to the dinner. More than 400 "I" men are now residing within the state and a large percentage of them will attend the Indiana rally. The invitation is general to all followers of "cream and crimson" sports. Willis S. Coval, Indianapolis, president of the "I" Men's Association, is in charge of arrangements.

Reform in Racetrack Betting

By PAUL R. MALLON
(C. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 17.—The cry is being set up by reformers for eradication of the "betting evil". The "betting evil" is the gambling being done at racetracks throughout the country. In this age of civilization, no such condition should be tolerated, they say.

Maryland and Kentucky have recognized the betting evil and have government regulations. Betting is done openly and the state gets a substantial tax. In neither of these states is there any income tax levied on the salaries of workers. But there is in New York.

The politicians of New York and Illinois and some other states have sidestepped the issue. At tracks in and around New York there is in practice what is known as "rational betting". The state law prohibits any betting whatever, but it has been so long since a bookmaker was arrested for violating that law that nobody seems to recall it.

Recently, out in Chicago, police raided the Hawthorne track at the opening of the racing season there and "pinched" a dozen alleged gamblers.

Nobody in New York or Chicago believes that anyone is going to pay up to $5 entrance fee, merely to watch a few ponies run around the track.

As long as there is horse racing there will be betting. The authorities of New York state, just as in some other states, know that "rational betting" is being openly conducted at the tracks every afternoon.

The politicians of New York are afraid to remedy the conditions at crookedness caused by failure to recognize betting and install pari-mutuel machines as they have in Maryland and Kentucky.

They tell the reformers: "See, we have a law prohibiting betting; we have wiped out the betting evil."

But they know that betting is going on and they could arrest hundreds every afternoon if they wished. But that would incite the race fans to vote against them.

Hence they permit the great farce to go on—playing both ends against the middle.

If the reformers want to correct the "betting evil" they will have the backing of every racing fan in the United States, except the bookmakers, who are getting rich off the present condition.

If the pari-mutuel machines were installed in New York tracks and the betting taken out of the hands of irresponsible bookmakers, the workers of New York state would not have to pay an income tax on their salaries.

If the reformers have an honest desire to correct the evil of betting on horse races, they can force the matter to an issue and make the politicians either abolish horse racing or conduct it properly.

The Score Board

Five hits, two passes, an error, and a wild pitch gave the Robins seven runs in the third inning and an 8 to 4 victory over the Pirates. McClellan's error behind the wild pitching of Blankenship gave the Athletics a 4 to 2 win from the White Sox.

Seven runs were scored on a flock of hits off Glazner in the second inning and the Cards beat the Phils 13 to 7.

Tobin's homer and other long distance hits enabled the Browns to beat the Red Sox 4 to 1.

After losing the first game 6 to 0, the Yanks came back and won the second from the Indians 11 to 7.

Jack Beatty's fine pitching gave the Giants a victory over the Cubs 3 to 1 in the second game after they had dropped the first 7 to 4.

Zachary bettered Dauss in a pitching duel and the Senators beat the Tigers 4 to 2.

SPORT CHATTER

Cleveland—Joe Bush, one of the star pitchers of the New York Yanks will be out of the game indefinitely. Bush broke the third finger on his left hand fielding a ball in the second game yesterday against the Indians.

New York—William M. Johnston, winner of the British tennis championship at Wimbledon, returned today on the Olympic. Others in the party returning from Europe were Vincent Richards, Francis T. Hunter, Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, Miss Levee Baneroff, Miss Eleanor Goss, Miss Martha Bayard and Miss Eleanor Sears.

BOXERS DEMAND TOO MUCH MONEY

By HEZE CLARK

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—Boxers and their managers in all parts of the country are killing the goose that lays the golden egg by demanding such sums of money for boxing a few rounds that it is almost impossible for promoters to meet their demands.

When the promoters lose financially the boxers will soon learn that fewer promoters are willing to stage big boxing shows. Which every boxer is unwilling to take a chance with the promoters on what the gate receipts may prove to be, boxing becomes purely a money grabbing game and all sportsmanship is lost.

When the element of sportsmanship is lost, even from professional athletics, the public will soon be drawn away from the attendance.

It is right for boxers to get what their work is worth, even though the price is thousands of dollars, but they must not disappoint the boxing fans.

Tommy Gibbons is probably the most popular boxer in the world today. He fought Jack Dempsey for the boxing championship and not for money.

Low Tandler, the Philadelphia lightweight who failed to get in the ring last week at Michigan City with Sailor Freedman, lost much of his popularity with the boxing fans.

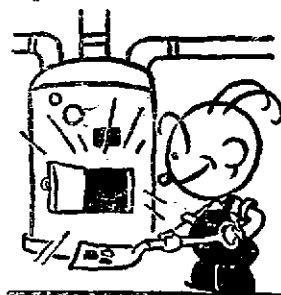

It seems that Tandler's manager was worried because he did not sell all of the $150,000 purse in front of him before the match.

An excellent example of true sportsmanship among professional boxers was that shown by Bud Taylor just before the Memorial Day races.

When an Indianapolis promoter was singing the blues because the gate was not as heavy as he thought it would be, Taylor took a $1,000 out in his guarantee rather than disappoint the fans.

The coal dealer is a good fellow, but you don't have to give him all your money. If you will build a furnace room of Sheetrock—the fireproof wallboard—you will keep the heat in, keep the cold out, and keep dollars in your pocket. This different wallboard insulates like a standard plaster wall.

At the dinner hour music was very beautifully rendered by great grandchildren of Mrs. Bussel, Ernest and Elizabeth Bussel.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bussel, formerly of Rushville, entertained Sunday in honor of his mother's eighty-third birthday at their home in Mooresville, Ind. At the noon hour a bountiful pitch-in dinner was enjoyed by all. Music was an enjoyable feature of the afternoon. Those present were a daughter, grandchildren, and great grandchildren of Mrs. Margaret Bussel; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carr and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McGraw and family of Glenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Carr and daughter of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Francis of near Mooresville, Mrs. Emma Bussel and children of Mooresville.

Miss Ada Walters, 338 East Tenth street, and Clifford Smiley, 215 Smiley Avenue, were quietly married at the First Presbyterian manse this morning at 9:30 o'clock by Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the church. The full Westminster ring ceremony was used. The bride was lovely in a gown of gray crepe-de-chine and a hat to match. She wore a corsage of pink roses and fern. The ceremony was witnessed by the bride's two sisters, the Misses Mildred and Lucile Walters and Stanley Stewart of New Salem.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Smiley left on a wedding trip by motor to West Baden, Ind. Upon their return to this city they will be at home to their friends in a newly furnished home, corner of Second and Harrison streets. The bridegroom is manager of the Smiley barber shop.

JOHNSON VOTE IS NEAR LANDSLIDE

ators from Minnesota, progressives in the senate hold a balance of power. Both were elected on platform that grew out of the non-Partisan League program in the north-west.

Johnson will favor:
Repeal of the Esch-Cummins railroad law.
Revision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff.
Government grain purchase and storage to assure the farmer "a living wage."

Nationalization and development of water power resources.
The Norris Cinclair national farm marketing corporation.

Complete revision of the federal reserve bank system.
Abolition of supreme court decisions by a majority vote.

A soldier bonus to be paid by revenue from an excess profits tax—not a sales tax.

Restriction of the use of court injunctions in labor disputes.

More stringent regulation of the packing industry.

Complete equality for men and women, politically and industrially.

A new child labor law.
As soon as things stack up on the farm near Kimball, Johnson plans to "visit around" with his constituents and learn what else they want him to do. He will be an enthusiastic member of the farm bloc which is becoming well defined in the senate.

Republican leaders ascribed the defeat of Governor Prens to "the unhealing unrest and economic conditions which found its vent in a protest vote against the party in power."

This was the statement of Charles R. Adams, recently appointed chairman of the Republican state central committee and the governor's campaign manager.

Fred A. Pike, manager of the Johnson victory to "a complete political realignment in this state."

"The election of Magnus Johnson shows the extent to which the old parties have disintegrated," he said. The new senator is a picturesque character, typical of the Swedish immigrant farmers so numerous in the North Star state.

Born in Liljedahl, Sweden, he was educated in the grade schools there. On vacations he sailed on coastwise vessels. At 12 he became an apprentice in a bottle factory at Liljedahl.

ESSAY CONTEST TO CLOSE OCT. 12

Estimated By American Legion 250,000 Children Will Compete In Contest This Year

ELIMINATION METHOD USED

Subject For The Essay Is "Why America Should Prohibit Immigration For Five Years"

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17—The second annual American Legion essay contest for school children throughout the country will close October 12, it is announced at Legion headquarters here today.

It was estimated by officers of the Legion that 250,000 children will compete this year. The subject for the essay is: "Why America should prohibit all immigration for a period of five years."

The children of the nation will compete by a method of elimination. Cooperating with educational officials in every state, the Legion has found it possible to have county and city school heads pass on the best composition from their schools and send them to the state committee.

Three competent judges will pass on the essays and award silver and bronze medals and certificates of merit to winners of first, second and third places in each state.

The best essay of each state will then be submitted to the national committee, composed of educators of national prominence. They will consider each essay for thought, style, originality of treatment, spelling and penmanship to determine rating of contestants.

When the committee designates the winners, special awards will be made first to receive $750, second $500, and third $250, all of which must be applied on scholarship expenses at any college or university designated by the winners.

Last year's contest, in which 50,000 entered, was won by Ah Sing Ching, a Hawaiian youth of Chinese extraction, who is now finishing preparatory school work. Virginia Chastain, Indianapolis, was second, and Joseph Giandomato, Bridgeport, Conn., who submitted his essay in blank verse, was third.

Essays are limited to 500 words, written on one side of the page, with name, address and age of each contestant affixed. A short pledge is signed by the writer that the essay is entirely his or her own work. Age limits are from 12 to 18 years.

GARY TO HAVE ARMORY

Gary, Ind., July 17.—Construction work on the armory here will be begun before Aug. 1, according to an announcement by Col. A. P. Melton, commander of the 113th engineers. All preliminaries have been arranged, Adjutant General Harry B. Smith told members of the committee. The armory will be located on a plot of 5 acres. Outdoor drills may be held in fair weather, members of the committee said.

Moonglight Cherry Pickers

Akron, Ind., July 17—Akron is the home of the champion moonlight cherry picker of Indiana, according to Mrs. Harry Love of this city. She sold the fruit on two heavily laden trees to two purchasers, the deals being made late in the afternoon. When the buyers appeared in the morning, prepared to pick the fruit there was little left on either tree, a thief having stripped practically every branch during the night. It is estimated by Mrs. Love that each tree yielded not less than two bushels of fruit.

TO ADD AGRICULTURE

Piercetown, July 16.—Vocational agriculture will be added to the curriculum of the Piercetown school with the opening of the fall semester, Sept. 10. This subject is to be given special attention as the result of a decision reached by the township trustees, after having conducted an investigation into the courses taught in Indiana and other states.

5,000 GUARDSMEN IN CAMP

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17—Approximately 5,000 members of the Indiana National Guard are now encamped at Camp Knox, Ky., Adjutant General Harry B. Smith announced today. This is the largest troop movement in Indiana since the war.

11-YEAR-OLD BOY DROWNS

Logansport, Ind., July 17—While swimming in the high school pool, John Patchell, 11, son of Milton Patchell, was drowned. The boy was a member of the school's summer athletic classes. This was the first drowning in the pool since its construction eight years ago.

DEMANDS EXTRA SESSION

New York, July 17—A demand that President Harding call immediately an extra session of congress to pass a measure for relief of the American farmers was voiced today by Senator Brookhart of Iowa, who has just returned to this country from a visit to Soviet-Russia.

WHEAT STILL GOING DOWN

Chicago, July 17—Wheat prices continued their drop to new record lows on the Chicago Board of Trade today. July deliveries sold at 96 1/2 cents a bushel, September at 95 1/2, and December at 93 1/2. The wheat pit was crowded with sellers and no buyers were in sight.

PROMINENT MASON DIES

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17—Wright Marble, 53 years old, dropped dead today at the corner of Pennsylvania and Washington streets here today. Marble was prominent in Masonic circles throughout the state. It is thought that heart failure caused Marble's death.

150 BARREL OIL WELL

Portland, Ind., July 17—An oil well, which, it is believed, will produce 150 barrels a day, has been shot in the southeastern part of Jay county. Oil ran over the foot of the derrick before the well was shot, and the explosion sent the oil several hundred feet into the air.

UNMASKED MEN ROB BANK

Chance Of Catching Edwardspoint, Ind., Bandits Seems Small

Vincennes, Ind., July 17—The chance of catching the two unmasked men who held up the cashier of the Edwardspoint bank late yesterday and made away with $2,500 in cash seemed small today.

Although Vincennes and Edwardspoint police joined in the chase immediately after A. B. Rich, the cashier, gave the alarm, no trace of the Ford coupe in which the men fled was found.

The men held the cashier up at the point of a revolver when he turned to change a bill for them.

BANK OVERLOADED

Indianapolis, July 17—Fred Whicker, bank examiner, has taken charge of the bank at Redkey following the voluntary closing of the institution's doors yesterday. It was announced at the office of the state banking commission today.

The bank is said to have overflooded in the agricultural community during the period of inflation.

Heads Pageant

Miss Margaret M. Krsak, San Francisco, will have charge of the Pageant of All Nations at the National Educational Association's convention being held simultaneously in San Francisco and Oakland, Cal.

TRIAL IS POSTPONED

Owing to a misunderstanding in the time for the trial of the alleged five men, who were caught Sunday night by Police Chief Blackburn, Mayor Thomas continued the case from last night until some other night this week. Two of the five men were said to have been shooting craps, and the other three were witnesses. All of them appeared last night in police court, but it is said that the prosecutor was not notified, and the case will be reset for some night this week.

INDIANA MAN NAMED

Des Moines, Ia., July 17—After holding office only since July 1, William L. Wade, superintendent of the Iowa anti-saloon league, has resigned and will be succeeded by S. H. McNaught, deputy attorney general of Indiana, league officials announced today. He will take charge in Iowa September 1.

The Test of Good Will

Most manufacturers appreciate the importance of good will on the part of the dealer, and count it one of their greatest assets. But many of them need to consider more thoroughly in what good will consists.

The final test of good will is the salability of the product — the consumer demand.

The dealer may be willing to concede the high standing and prestige of the manufacturer. He acknowledges freely that it is one of the foremost concerns in the business, that it is backed by men who have a solid reputation in their industry, and that its relations with the dealer are business-like and pleasant. He is disposed to estimate all these things at full value.

But all this good will cannot materially help the dealer sell your goods unless the public is disposed to buy them.

The kind of good will that counts most with the dealer is the good will of the public towards your goods.

If the consumer is demanding your product, and the dealer is able to supply it at a profit, he will have ample good will for the house that makes this possible.

There is just one way to build up this consumer good will, and that is by making the product right and telling the consumer about its merits through Advertising.

With the consumer demanding your product, and the dealer disposed to give it every preference, its steady sale is certain. Good will becomes a big reality in business when that good will extends to the consumer. More and better advertising will create the kind of good will that every manufacturer needs most.

WILL FEED PART OF THEIR WHEAT

Farmers Figure That They Can Better Afford to Feed Some Wheat Than Buy Corn

ONLY WORTH 97 CENTS A BU.

Nature Of Wheat Is Such That It Is Not Suitable To Feed Alone But With Other Grains

According to the county agent's office, a great number of farmers in Rush county are planning to feed at least a part of their wheat crop this year, rather than sell it at below the cost of production. It is figured that wheat is worth about 95 to 97 cents per bushel to feed, on the basis of the prevailing price that farmers are paying for corn, so farmers can better afford to feed some wheat rather than buy corn.

Even where the farm does not need to buy corn to feed, it is considered by some that he can better afford to feed wheat and sell corn, rather than feed corn and sell his wheat, for corn can be sold at a profit and wheat can not. Then the farmer would stand just as good a chance of realizing 95-97 cents a bushel from his wheat as he would of breaking even on feeding 85c corn, and if future hog prices are high enough to yield a profit the farmer would perhaps realize a dollar or more for his wheat.

Of course, the nature of wheat is such that it would not be suitable to feed alone, but should be either ground with other grains or soaked. Some farmers are planning to grind wheat with corn, oats and rye, and this mixture would prove an excellent feed for hogs if mixed in the proper proportions.

The farmer who is buying high priced commercial feeds, both the mixed feeds and such feeds as middlings and bran, can especially afford to feed wheat, as can be seen by comparing the relative prices of these feeds with the price of wheat. When a farmer sells his wheat at 88 cents per bushel, this amounts to only $29.33 per ton, and if he wanted to sell a ton of wheat and buy a ton of middlings he would have to make up $12.67 additional cash to

Farmers May Obtain "Cooperative Marketing" Book from Co. Agent

Farmers are becoming more interested in cooperative marketing of farm products, and in order that they may receive information along this line, the Rush County Farm Bureau has purchased a number of copies of Herman Steen's "Cooperative Marketing," which will be placed in the office of the organization to be loaned to farmers who care to read the work.

The book is the newest work out on the subject and is recommended very highly by leaders in agriculture and authorities in marketing. Farmers interested in the subject should avail themselves of the opportunity to read the book. There will be no charge for the loan of the work to members of the organization.

NEW WEEDS BROUGHT TO AGENT TO IDENTIFY

One A Species of Wild Barley Which is Dangerous if in Fields Where Cattle Feed

BEARDS ARE INJURIOUS.

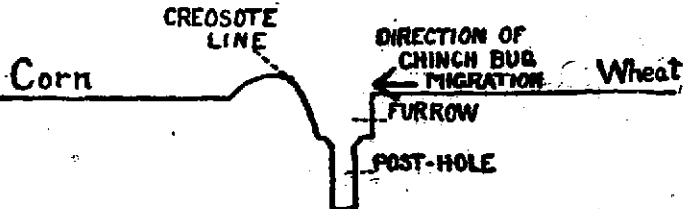

A number of new weeds have been brought into the office of the Rush county agent lately for identification one of which is a species of wild barley or squirrel-tail grass. This weed is a very fine-stemmed grass with a rye-like head carrying very long, fine beards which are as long as the head itself. These beards make the plant a very dangerous weed, especially if it gets started in fields where cattle are running.

The beards are armed with very small, sharp barbs which will tend to cause them to penetrate the intestine of the animal causing dangerous infection and inflammation. Often, if the plant is eaten in great amounts, these beards will form "hair balls" in the intestinal tract of the animal which may prove serious.

The plant is an annual, maturing its seed in one year and dying down in the fall. Therefore, the method of eradication is to keep it mowed down so that it will not get a chance to form seeds.

CHINCH BUGS REPORTED IN TWO - THIRDS OF STATE

Creosote Barrier Found Most Effective Measure To Prevent Damage To Corn

Chinch bugs are now showing up conspicuously in rye, wheat and barley fields in many sections of Indiana especially in the northern two-thirds of the state, and with the cutting of the grain they are moving rapidly into the adjoining corn and oats fields, according to reports received by the entomology department of Purdue University.

One of the best means of protecting corn and oats is the use of barriers around the grain stubble at harvest and of all the barriers which have been tried, the creosote barrier which has been used to save thousands of acres of corn in Indiana, remains the most efficient.

The accompanying diagram gives a good idea of the construction of the barrier. It consists in throwing up a ridge of earth around the grain field, at least on the side next to corn or oats, the digging of post holes with sloping, cone-shaped top to trap the bugs, and a line of creosote to repel the bugs. This barrier is fully described in Extension Bulletin 99 which will be sent by addressing the Purdue Agricultural Extension Department, Lafayette, Indiana.

Creosote for this work, commonly designated Chinch Bug Creosote, is obtainable from the Republican Creosoting Company, Merchants Bank

BROWN RENEWS OLD LINE CHARGE

E. C. Brown, National Live Stock Head, Says Decline in Hog Prices Due to Producer's Commission

REFUTED BY JOHN BROWN

Farmer Brown Points Out Inaccuracies to Statement Calling Attention to Supply and Demand Law

When he made the absurd charge that the decline in hog prices was due to the success of the producers' owned co-operative commission companies in securing such large volumes of business, Everett C. Brown, president of the National Live Stock Exchange, voiced accurately the fear of the old-line companies. John F. Brown, president of the National Live Stock Producers Association, has issued a statement pointing out the inaccuracies in the Exchange head's conclusions. Farmer Brown informs Commissionman Brown that the decline in hog prices is due to unusually large receipts and states that the co-operators understand the basic economic truth of the law of supply and demand. He charges the spokesman of the old-line commission men with mis-stating the facts and upbraids the Exchange for discriminating against the stock raisers in favor of the country speculator. He further charges that the old-line commission firms have boycotted the farmers' co-operative sales agencies until ordered to cease the practice by the Department of Agriculture under the new Packers and Stock Yards Control Law.

Gas tar, obtainable from local gas manufacturing plants, has been used effectively in some instances as a substitute for the creosote but is not dependable as the tar varies considerably in the content of the material which makes creosote so effective as a repellent.

The dust barrier, constructed by plowing a furrow and dragging a log through the furrow to maintain a dusty mulch is effective but requires considerable labor and is not permanent since rains make it ineffective. It is however an excellent temporary barrier to be used until creosote can be obtained.

President John G. Brown of the

TO SEND YOUNG WOMAN TO STATE FAIR SCHOOL

Farm Bureau To Send Representative Until Each Township Has Been Represented.

SPLENDID TRAINING GIVEN

Following its usual custom, the Rush County Farm Bureau will send a Rush county young woman to the State Fair School of Home Economics, August 27 to Sept. 8. The local farmers organization has sent a representative to this school every year since 1920 when the county was represented by a young woman from Noble township.

The plan is to send a representative until each township has been represented, and at a recent meeting of the board of directors lots were drawn to determine which township would get to pick the county representative. Jackson township was the township chosen and the young woman will be picked by the township president. Richland township drew second place and will therefore select the alternate.

Those who have had the honor of representing the county in the past three years at the school testify to the value of the training given at the school and the enjoyment they have gotten out of the work. The training includes work in cooking, selection of foods, sewing, household management, home nursing and health.

National Live Stock Producers Association says:

"In a statement to the press, Everett C. Brown, president of the National Live Stock Exchange, says that a large part of the blame for

MANY ENTRIES IN TON LITTER CLUB

More Than 400 Litters Will Compete For Medals Offered By Indiana Livestock Association

RUSH WELL REPRESENTED

Tom Chambers Of This County Is Cited As Having Made Excellent Showing With His Sows

Lafayette, Ind., July 17.—More than 400 litters have been nominated by members of the Hoosier Ton Litter Club to compete for the medals offered by the Indiana Livestock Breeders Association, according to J. R. Wiley, State Leader of the Club.

Henry county leads in number of members nominating litters fifteen different men showing up with litters of eight or more. Newton county runs a close second with eleven members nominating litters. Adams, Jackson, Noble, Posey, Rush, Sullivan, Union and Wells counties stand close to the leading counties in the litters enrolled.

A total of 2684 litters were reported to the office of the Secretary by the 854 members enrolled in the club. This is 500 more litters than were reported a year ago.

Otto Holle of Adams county led the membership of the entire state in the success that he had in raising large litters. His thirteen sows raising 117 pigs until weaning time, an average of nine pigs to the sow.

H. B. Wason a Purdue graduate in 1911, Lake county reported the largest number of litters farrowed of any member in the club, 44 sows. He had excellent success, raising better than seven pigs to the litter

2 COUNTIES WAGE WAR ON THE RAT

Anti-Rat Campaign Conducted in Jefferson And Morgan Counties Recently Was Successful

BARIUM-CARBONATE USED

Chief Value Of Campaign Was Fact Everybody Was Aroused To Point Of Killing The Rodents

The anti-Rat Campaign was conducted in city of Madison and Jefferson County, recently resulted in the killing of thousands of rats throughout the county. Carlyle Carr, a representative from the U. S. Department of Biological Survey, assisted in arranging the campaign and starting work. A meeting was called of representative citizens at the Commercial Club, at Madison, on April 26, for all of the farmers and business men who were interested in the campaign. Mr. Carr gave an interesting discussion on rats and damage done by them yearly. The estimated loss by rats in the city of Madison is $16,000 per year and $25,000 per year in the county, according to Mr. Carr. A young rat will breed at the age of three months and will produce six litters with an average of ten per litter. At that rate, a pair of rats in three years will produce three thousand and fifty nine million rats. The finance committee secured an appropriation of $75 from the city of Madison and $75 from the county, making a total of $150 to carry on the campaign. After the funds had been raised, 600 pounds of Barium-Carbonate was ordered to furnish free to farmers and citizens generally for poisoning of rats. 3,000 small sacks of the poison being distributed. Newspaper publicity and posters were used to inform the people of the campaign and concerted action was secured. The work of counting rat tails and awarding prizes was put in charge of the sheriff.

A similar campaign was carried on in Morgan County the following week. The chief value of the campaign was the fact that everybody was aroused to the point of killing the rodents.

KILLING OFF LIES HELPS MILK FLOW

Three Factors, Hot Weather, Poor Pasture And Flies Tend To Reduce Supply During Summer

2 BEYOND FARMER'S CONTROL

During Fly Time Each Herd Should Be Sprayed Once Or Twice Daily With Some Spray Mixture

There are three factors that tend to reduce the flow of milk during the summer, hot weather, poor pasture and flies. First and to some extent the second, are beyond control of the dairymen but the loss from the third can be greatly reduced if proper steps are taken at the right time. Sanitation and the use of a good fly spray will greatly reduce the loss caused by flies, say Purdue University dairymen. This loss is due partly to the direct loss of blood drawn from the animal by the insects. The great numbers that infest the herd day and night gorge themselves with large quantities of blood. Besides this, the excitement and annoyance caused during the heat of the day when the herd seeks some shady place to find comfort, exerts no small influence on the daily milk-flow. Flies may become so troublesome at certain seasons of the year that animals are driven frantic. This not only affects the milk flow but may even lead to a loss of flesh.

The removal of all unnecessary material around the yards, especially fresh horse manure is a very effective means of controlling the fly menace. The darker the stable can be kept during the heat of the day the better. White wash darkened with some coloring matter such as lamp black may be applied to the windows. Sacking hung from the top of the door keeps the stable dark while the cows are entering and also serves to brush off a number at the same time. Some dairies equip the windows and doors with screens. This is especially valuable when the practice of keeping the herd indoors during the heat of the day is followed.

be sprayed once or twice daily with some spray mixture. No fly repellent has yet been devised which is satisfactory as a permanent spray. But there are a number which greatly reduce the attacks of these insects. There are a number of proprietary makes on the market which are satisfactory, but a home-made preparation can be easily prepared at less cost which is equally efficient. The following mixture is claimed to protect the cow for at least one day, if the application is carefully made.

Mish oil—2 quarts
Oil of Tar—1 quart
Crude Carbolic Acid—3-5 ounces.
All these materials are mixed and then thoroughly sprayed over the animal. Apply lightly, otherwise injurious results may occur. Spraying may be done with a hand or bucket force pump in such a way as to provide a uniform coating of mist over the animal. Particular attention should be given to wetting those parts most affected by flies, but in no case should any part of the animal be drenched completely to the skin. The best time to make applications is just after milking before the cows are turned to pasture. This spray mixture should be procurable from the local drug store at a cost of $1.00 to $1.25 per gallon.

More detailed information may be found in Extension Bulletin No. 105. It may be obtained upon request by writing the Department of Entomology, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

Free range will not aid much in the development of chicks these warm days if the youngsters are confined to the colony houses in the morning and released only when the sun is high enough to drive them to the shade. Free range from daybreak to noon is worth more than all the rest of the day, in the feed and exercise afforded. The Farm Journal, July 1923.

The big sunflower mentioned in the February Farm Journal has been beaten. Grover Pfister, of Ohio, raised one which measured seventeen inches in diameter. Allen Baringer, of Indiana, raised one which measured seventeen and one-half inches in diameter and had 3,231 seeds in it. The Farm Journal July 1923.

TREATED WHEAT IS FREE OF SMUT

Smut Has Been Entirely Controlled by Hot Water Treatment, According to Inspection Reports

SHOWS VALUE OF METHOD

Treatment of Wheat to Control Disease Job For Groups of Farmers and Not Individual

The hot water treated wheat fields are looking fine and in every field examined in a score of counties the smut has been entirely controlled by the treatment is the report brought back to Purdue University by C. T. Gregory of the botany extension staff who has charge of the smut control work in Indiana. In Wabash county ten farmers clubbed together last fall and treated enough wheat to plant a field on the farm of C. W. Thompson. The wheat will be used for seed by the farmers in this community. This is the first time such a method of solving the loose smut problem has been tried in Indiana and some such method is said to be necessary to completely overcome this disease.

The black dust of this smutty wheat is made up of spores of the wheat smut and when this dust is scattered by the wind to the wheat heads, the smut is ready to destroy the heads next year. If one man treats his wheat and his neighbors all plant smutted wheat, the clean field will become reinfested and the treatment must be repeated. Mr. Thompson and seven of his neighbors, Glenn Duffey, Abe Garrison, Harvey Waggoner, Elijah Floyd, Frank Muirmore, Homer Cecil, and Matt Garrison, will overcome this difficulty by forming a smut-free area around Mr. Thompson's farm where the seed wheat is to be grown. Some of the farmers in Posey county have shown that consistent treating of their wheat will banish the loose smut and keep it banished. Carl Mann has July wheat that was treated three years ago, and this year it has less than 1 percent of smut in it. Phillip Scheiber has wheat that was treated two years ago and there is much less than 1 percent of smut in it.

These facts all show that the treatment of wheat to control smut is not a job for the individual farmer but for groups of farmers who will agree to treat their own wheat or at least will use seed from treated fields.

WHITE WASH HELPS CLEAN DAIRY BARN

A coat of white wash applied to Dairy stables improves the appearance and also adds to the cleanliness and sanitation a good deal. This can be done with little expense, if the material is on hand, some rainy day. The accompanying recipes offered by Purdue dairymen give a good mixture for application. The Government Whitewash is made as follows: Slack half a bushel of lime in boiling water, covering to keep in steam. Strain the liquid and add a peck of salt previously dissolved in warm water, three pounds ground rice boiled to a thin paste and stirred in while hot, one-half pound of Spanish whiting, and one pound glue dissolved by soaking in cold water and then hung over a slow fire in a glue pot. To this mixture add five gallons of hot water, stir well, and let stand for several days covered from dust. It is best applied hot.

Ordinary Whitewash is as follows: Slack 10 pounds quick lime with 2 gallons water. Allow to stand in pail for 1 hour before using.

These mixtures are best applied by means of a spray pump but may be put on by means of a brush.

Signs For Bureau Members

At the recent meeting of the board of directors of the Rush County Farm Bureau it was voted to purchase membership gate signs to be distributed among the members of the organization that they may tack them up on their gates to designate their farm as one represented by a membership in the Rush County Farm Bureau. It is hoped to have the signs here and ready for distribution in a short time.

paigned was the fact that everybody in the county was aroused to the point that they were thinking about killing rats. For instance, one man who thought he had no rats, started digging around the corner of an old building and found 17 rats in just a few minutes. Another man was aroused to the point that he moved an old floor (which probably would have been left for two or three years) and killed 118 rats. The goal in the campaign was 20,000 rats and, from the best figures available making it conservative, there were 15,000 rats killed in Morgan County, which when counted as doing $2.00 worth of damage each, per year, would amount to $30,000 saved on an investment of a little effort and $100 in cash (for the purchase of Barium-Carbonate).

Kokomo—Twenty-four tons of grass were cut in Houston park. The grass will be used as feed for the horses of the city street cleaning department.

BROWN RENEWS

hogs being $1 under the cost of production is due to co-operative selling agencies. He further states that while hogs are losing money, cattle and sheep are making money and hog prices are high in Canada. Since the co-operative selling agencies handle relatively few cattle and sheep as compared with their hog business and since there are no 'co-ops' in Canada, he concludes that they are the cause of the low price of hogs, and urges the stock raisers to return to the old-line commission firms of which he is spokesman. Everett C. Brown says in effect that the co-operative marketing business of his former customers is so successful that they cannot handle it as well as his privately owned firms can.

"Everett C. Brown's opinion regarding the low hog market is wholly at variance with the facts which he has at hand. Market statistics show that local cattle receipts for the month of June were the smallest since 1917. Light receipts make for higher prices. Likewise the receipts of sheep for June were the lightest in more than 30 years. These good prices were due to sensationally light runs and not to the fact that the

'co-ops' have not yet invaded those departments of the market as fully as they have the hog department. "The same market statistics show that more hogs were on the Chicago market this June than ever before in the history of June markets. A similar condition occurred in 1911, with similar effect, and that was long before co-operative marketing of hogs was under way. Too many hogs for the entire market and not just too many hogs for the competitor of the National Live Stock Exchange was the true cause of the break in prices. Canadian markets received only 50,000 hogs during June; Canadian bacon is always at a premium; the light runs and strong demand caused good prices over there.

"Between November and July, seven western markets received 5,000,000 more hogs than in the same period in either of the two years just preceding. Hog shipments from eleven corn belt states to all markets increased 32.2 percent this year as compared with the year preceding in the period from November 1 to June 1.

"We who make up and manage the co-operative selling agencies have all been customers of some member of the National Live Stock Exchange. We are not unschooled in market practices. We raise livestock to sell we sell it through our own organization at the terminal markets and are pleased with our own handling of our own stock. We are returning this year 30 cents of every dollar that we have charged for commission at the Chicago market. We have returned even larger dividends at other markets. We have ample funds to hire the best selling talent and have done so. Furthermore, we have proved to ourselves that controlling as we do an enormous amount of live stock offered for sale, we stabilize the price much more than if we were 15 firms doing one-fiftieth of the business we now do. We handle from 15 to 35 percent of the total receipts in markets where we operate.

"The law of supply and demand comes nearer operating in live stock than in almost any other farm product. It is a matter of record that overproduction without orderly marketing means lower prices; low prices sometimes come without overproduction in a disorderly market because our product is all dumped at a certain season. In such cases the speculator gets our product and the consumer gets no benefit of the low price which the producer receives. These conditions we seek to relieve by uniting our selling power and placing our goods on the market as it is needed; we will also relieve the transportation situation in this way."

OF THEIR WHEAT

pay for the feed. There is more feeding value in a ton of wheat, so he would be better off if he fed his wheat and would save the expenses of the hauling to hoot.

BLACK RUST INFECTION

Wheat field on Patterson farm, formerly infected, is free from smut this year

About a year ago a survey was made of Rush county to locate and destroy common barberry bushes that were responsible for carrying over the fungus that causes black stem rust in wheat. During this survey Rush county was found to be harboring the largest barberry bush found in the state of Indiana on the farm of Derius Patterson in Richland township.

At the time a story appearing in the press about the finding of the bush and pointed out that in one field just north of the lot in which the bush grew the wheat had been badly rusted for the past score of years. The last wheat grown in this field tested only 47 pounds to the bushel.

It is reported by the township chairman of Richland township, H. L. Beall, that the wheat in this field this year is free from smut and will probably be of good quality. This demonstrates conclusively that the barberry does have a bearing on black rust infection and should be destroyed.

The county agent has received only one report of black stem rust infection in the county this year, and he announces that he would like to hear from any farmer having black rust so that a survey can be made of the surrounding country for the purpose of finding the offending barberry.

CHINCH BUGS REPORTED IN TWO THIRDS OF STATE

and mass on the outer rows before the barrier is constructed, it is advisable to destroy those on the corn by spraying with a nicotine spray or kerosene emulsion. A nicotine spray is made by dissolving a cubic inch of cheap laundry or fish-oil soap in a gallon of water to which is added a tablespoonful of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate. A 10 per cent kerosene emulsion properly prepared will give the same results. Neither of these sprays will injure the corn if precautions are taken not to spray into the heart of the growing shoot. Two percent free nicotine dust is likewise effective, easy to apply, and relatively inexpensive.

MORE COW TEST GROUPS

A cow test Association has been organized in Steuben and LaGrange counties and the required number of members have been secured in Delaware and Madison Counties as soon as a competent tester is available to start the work. This makes eleven associations operating in Indiana under directions of the Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue University.
